JUST AT DAWN

A Tornado of Terrific Force Swept Over Louisville.

Scores of Buildings Unroofed and Wrecked by the Wind.

STREETS FILLED WITH TWISTED RELICS OF THE STORM'S FURY.

No Lives Lost, But Many Miraculous Escapes Reported—The Blow Came From the Southwest and Its Force Was Spent in the Vicinity of the City—Disastrous Gales in Wisconsin and Minnesota.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 23.—Again the wind has worked its will upon Louisville. Dwellings are ruined, streets are filled with the wreckage of roofs, with broken and uprooted trees, with remnants of walls and twisted wires. No lives are known to be lost and few of the injuries received are serious.

Rain, with wind, came about midnight, but people slept peacefully until just at the dawn of the day. At 4 o'clock persons who were astir at that early hour saw a black cloud with greenish fringe sweeping up swiftly from the southwest. The blow first struck the south end of the city, marking its destructive force upon the Louisville & Nashville roundhouse at Tenth and Broadway. From there on the center of the city suffered little, save chimneys blown down and trees uprooted. The full force of the wind struck the squares bounded by Campbell, Hancock, Broadway and Green street, and there the principal damage was done.

When the storm struck the city eight workmen, under the charge of James Dadigan, night foreman at the big Louisville & Nashville round house at Tenth and Broadway, were busy about the engines. As the wind struck the circular building the roof was lifted free from all fastenings and then, as a lull came, dropped from its own weight squarely upon the structure. The walls stood the pressure but the roof crashed down upon the interior.

The heavy engines were overturned like toys, but the men escaped almost miraculously from death. As the roof lifted each man dived into the pit beneath his engine and lay safe until the storm passed. The walls are still standing and the damage to the building will not exceed $5,000. The damage to the engines will be less than half that amount.

North of Broadway and south of Main street, in the squares lying between Hancock and Campbell streets, many persons were awakened by the roar of the coming storm, and the frightened people gathered in the yards. They stood only for a few moments, for as the storm burst the air was filled with flying debris and each one ran for life.

E. S. Hanks keeps a dry goods store at 836 East Market street. His roof was blown completely off and the walls damaged.

Heins' grocery at 831-833 East Market street, a three-story building, was blown in and the entire building damaged.

The roof of the undertaking establishment of John S. Choenlaub of 837 East Market street was blown away, but little damage was done to the building.

The residence of Dr. F. C. Embry at 841 East Market street was also unroofed.

Chris Siegler's meatshop at 843 East Market street was also unroofed.

The roof is gone from the drug store of O. F. Hartlan at Market and Campbell streets.

The roof the two-story brick residence of Dr. Somers at 632 Clay street was lifted bodily from the house, carried across the street by the wind and crashed into the brick cottage of W. Johnson, a conductor on the Short Line, who lives at 637 Clay street. The front wall of the cottage caved in beneath the force of the missile and it is a complete wreck.

At 630 Clay street the roof and south wall of the house of J. Krisiese were blown down.

A brick cottage at 719 Hancock street was wrecked. The roof was blown off and the front wall collapsed. It was occupied by several colored families.

The residence of W. A. Crosby at 514 Campbell street was damaged badly.

The roof was blown from the house of J. Hoffer at 641 East Green street and the building otherwise damaged.

Chimneys and roofs are gone from the house of Mrs. John Riegel at 653 East Green street.

Logan Place, the beautiful little square, the site of the old market house, is a reminder of Baxter Square in the days of the great tornado. Most of the fence is blown down and the trees uprooted.

In the West End comparatively little damage was done aside from the L. & N. round house. Chimneys were blown from Frick's drug store at Sixth and Chestnut streets; the big plate glass windows were smashed at Cudahy's meat shop, at Sixth and Broadway, and similar accidents happened in many places.

"It was a local tornado," said Mr. O'Connor of the Weather Bureau this morning. "It emanated from the cyclone center which at the last reports was over Illinois. The barometer fell rapidly last night and some disturbance was expected on account of the steep gradient in the temperature. I think the tornado was purely local and I do not expect to hear that its effects are far reaching."

Andrew Humble, colored, was struck by flying debris and seriously hurt. Forty thousand dollars will cover the damage.

Persons who watched the coming of the cloud this morning were oppressed with the fear that the horrors of the cyclone of March 27, 1890, were about to be repeated. When the tornado of three years ago struck the city it came from the same point of the compass as did the storm of this morning, and when it had swept over the town 120 persons lay dead in its path and there were hundreds injured. It inflicted a property loss of $3,000,000, its greatest force being felt in the district bounded by Broadway and Eighteenth and Seventh and Main streets.

DAMAGE DONE IN INDIANA.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 23.—A wind-storm passed over Indianapolis about 4 o'clock this morning and did much damage. In the eastern and southern portions of the State the wind blew with the greatest fury. At Jeffersonville many houses were unroofed and trees were blown down. John Siem was blown over an embankment and severely injured. At Elwood the roof of the American Tin Plate Works was blown off and the building otherwise damaged.

This is the third time this great plant has been damaged by storm. At Marion the roaster building of the Columbia Zinc Works was blown over; also the smokestack, which fell on the main building, crushing the walls, damaging the machinery. The total damage will run up into the thousands.

IN THE NORTHWEST.

DESTRUCTIVE GALES SWEEP OVER PARTS OF MINNESOTA AND WISCONSIN.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 23.—A storm amounting almost to a cyclone, accompanied by much thunder and lightning, prevailed in this section last night, doing great damage to property and injuring a number of people. At the State Farm near Anthony the wind carried away the roof of the great barn and the walls fell outward. Fifty cattle in the barn escaped unhurt. The total damage at the farm is placed at $7,000. In this city buildings, trees, plate glass and bridges suffered. At Rochester Mrs. Mary Osmond, aged 70, died suddenly from nervous shock, and at Slayton a flying board cut off A. Gunderson's ear. A barn was struck by lightning near Canby and consumed by fire and three masons were injured by the overturning of a scaffold.

DAMAGE NEAR DEXTER.

DEXTER, Minn., May 23.—In a wind storm yesterday the residence of O. A. Hearstead, three miles north of here, was blown down, completely wrecked, and all the members of the family injured, Mrs. Hearstead seriously. The barn of A. Grabnue of Pleasant Valley was struck by lightning and five horses, together with other stock, consumed. The path of the storm is strewn with wrecked barns, and but few windmills are left standing.

ONE MAN KILLED.

DODGEVILLE, Wis., May 23.—The township of Moscow, about fifteen miles from this city, was visited by a cyclone last evening, demolishing a number of residences and barns. One man has been killed, although when the strip traversed by the storm is fully heard from it is thought that other deaths will be reported. The Howe truss bridge of the Illinois Central, crossing the Pecatonica River, was blown down.

ABOUT DETROIT.

THE WIND CAME WITH FURY AND THE RAIN IN SHEETS.

DETROIT, Mich., May 23.—A terrible wind storm accompanied by blinding sheets of rain, broke over this city this morning. At 8 o'clock the wind in this vicinity suddenly rose to a velocity of fifty-four miles an hour and has increased in force until it is now, at 11:30 blowing sixty miles. Many shade trees throughout the city were blown down, and some streets, Cass avenue especially, are so thickly strewn with broken timber and trunks as to render them almost impassable.

With few exceptions all telegraph and telephone wires running into Detroit are down. For this reason the Signal Service officials have been unable to issue a weather map this morning. The only points that they could reach were Manistee and Port Huron. Doubtless there was a large amount of damage throughout Michigan, and many wrecks have occurred on the lakes, although nothing definite can yet be learned. Great damage was done by high winds at Adrian this morning. At Lenawee Junction, five miles east, it amounted to a tornado. Two barns were blown down, numerous orchards were destroyed, and houses left without chimneys or window glass. Crops are leveled to the ground. The storm was accompanied by a heavy downpour of rain. The highways between Adrian and Tecumseh are strewn with trees, and are almost impassable in places.

FINED $1,600.

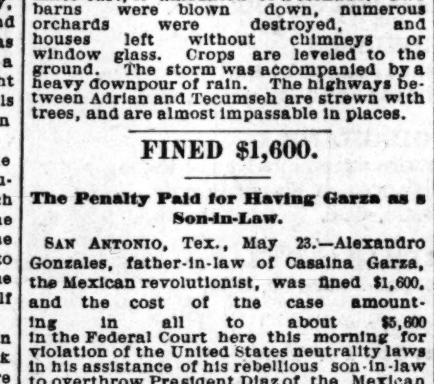

The Penalty Paid for Having Garza as a Son-in-Law.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., May 23.—Alexandro Gonzales, father-in-law of Casaina Garza, the Mexican revolutionist, was fined $1,600, and the cost of the case amounting in all to about $5,600 in the Federal Court here this morning for violation of the United States neutrality laws in his assistance of his rebellious son-in-law to overthrow President Diaz of the Mexican Republic.

HE IS SUSPECTED.

The Authorities Think John Holltorf Had a Hand in Killing McColloch.

The police are still working on the McColloch murder and have come to the conclusion that it was not a city burglar who did the job. They believe that the murder was committed by a member of the same gang to which Hall, who was shot at Webster Groves some time ago, belonged. In support of this theory they urge a peculiar fact in connection with the ordinary burglar's habits, and that is to fight shy of dog. The burglars in the Hall gang made a specialty of burglarizing country residences, and never had any trouble with dogs. The readiness with which the revolver was used by the intruder strengthens this theory, as the police argue the man who used it was fearful of the consequences, remembering the fate of Hall.

The revolver used was not a new one and showed that it had been in use for some time and is a cheap one and not the kind of a gun which the city crook would use. The police also have an idea that the man who did the shooting was injured and dropped the revolver on account of some injury to his hand or arm. No rig was seen returning from the city on the morning of the murder, although the road was full of farmers' wagons and a strange rig would have been noticed. The county authorities are also working on this theory and believe it was the deed of the members of the Hall gang.

John Holltorf of No. 4961 Delmar avenue, who was arrested about a month ago on a charge of burglary and larceny committed near Creve Cœur Lake is alleged to be one of this gang and he is one of the parties the authorities suspect of being implicated in the murder if he did not commit it. He was released on $1,000 bond, but when his case was called at Clayton last Friday he did not appear and his bond was declared forfeited. This the police regard as a suspicious circumstance. It is said that George Kolves, who confessed having had a hand in the suburban burglaries, is alleged to have stated that Holltorf had a revolver like the one found at McColloch's place with the initial "H" cut on the handle.

RAGGLES' ALLEGED VICTIM.

Columbus Boyer Did Not Die at the St. Louis City Hospital.

Bill Raggles, who was arrested at Bonne Terre, Mo., on suspicion of murdering his friend, Columbus Boyer, stated that he had left Boyer in St. Louis last winter and that he had died in the hospital here.

A search of the records at both the City Hospital and Dispensary failed to reveal that any man giving the name of Columbus Boyer had been treated at either place last winter. Raggles and Boyer left Bonne Terre last November, and the latter has been missing ever since. A dead body supposed to be his was found in the Big River, and Raggles is suspected of killing him.

OFFICER MAHONEY'S ASSAILANT CAUGHT.—Officer Michael Mahoney swore out a warrant for assault to kill yesterday against Mike Kehoe, whom he accuses struck him with a stone while he was making an arrest last February, fracturing his skull. Kehoe skipped out and did not return until last Saturday when he was arrested.

FOUR KILLED.

Fatal Work of a Gale of Wind at Cleveland.

Workmen Caught Under the Timbers of Wrecked Scaffolding.

TWO MEN INSTANTLY KILLED BY COLLAPSE OF A BUILDING.

The Names of Some of the Victims—Many Persons Seriously Hurt in Various Parts of the City—One House Blown Down and One of the Occupants Fatally Injured—Five Men Caught by Falling Walls in Chicago.

CLEVELAND, O., May 23.—A terrific wind storm struck this city at 9 o'clock this morning. Four men were instantly killed and many injured. In the numerous casualties a scaffold blown from its fastenings, seriously, and in one case fatally injured four men employed by the Cleveland Gaslight and Coke Co. They are:

MILES JOHNSON, 45 years of age, living in Hamilton street, near Buehl; compound fracture of left shoulder blade.

WILLIAM O'MALIA, 35 years old, living at Hibernia Hall, 174 Ontario street; fracture of fifth rib, internal injuries; will die.

MICHAEL MURPHY, 34 years of age, living on West River street; left shoulder blade broken, internal injuries and scalp wound.

MICHAEL HUGHES, living on Oregon street; rib fractured and internal injuries.

It had been found necessary to elevate a brick chimney on top of the Bradley Block at the corner of Superior and Andree streets, and for this purpose a scaffold had been built up twenty feet above the sixth story.

Seeing the storm coming the men employed on it ran to shelter. The wind was soon upon it and with a tearing of timbers the whole mass broke loose. It dropped straight down the side of the building till the second floor was reached. Here it was caught by another gust of wind and hurled with terrific force toward the gutter, where it landed with a crash that could be heard for blocks around. Twenty men under the direction of Jack Fleming of the Gas company were at work in the gutter. They were working hard to get the ditch covered, so as not to block the sewer when the rain fell.

The huge mass of heavy timbers fell right in their midst. They were all thrown off their feet by the concussion, but all but four of their number immediately sprang up. The men whose names have been mentioned could not arise, as they were pinned down by heavy timbers.

A general hurry call was sent in for all the ambulances in the city. They responded promptly and the work of rescue began. As soon as the men were extricated they were hustled away to Lakeside Hospital which is but a short distance from the scene of the accident. The men had no chance to save themselves when the scaffold fell. The first intimation they had of their danger was a cry from one of the carpenters working on the building.

A portion of the plate department of the Cleveland Rolling Mill Co. undergoing construction gave way to the storm with fatal results. There were a number employed on the structure, two of whom were killed instantly, another received injuries which will doubtless prove fatal and several more were badly injured. The names of the dead and injured are not obtainable at this writing.

Another casualty caused by the severity of the storm was the destruction of a two-story frame house at the corner of Doane and Superior streets. It was blown down and John Cole buried beneath the debris. When taken out the man was in a terrible condition and death soon followed, after intense suffering.

UNDER FALLEN WALLS.

ONE MAN KILLED AND FOUR OTHERS SERIOUSLY INJURED.

CHICAGO, May 23.—While a number of men were tearing down the old Western Union Building at the corner of La Salle and Washington streets at 8 o'clock this morning, a chute in which bricks, mortar and other debris was being sent to the basement gave way, carrying with it the flooring and timbers of the first story and hurling the entire mass on the men beneath. The accident happened just after a large force of men had gone to work tearing down the building to make place for the Stock Exchange. Among the broken timbers and heaps of brick five men were buried. When the victims were excavated the casualties were found to be as follows:

Unknown man killed.

Frank McDonald, leg broken.

Stephen Madden, head bruised and scalp wounds.

Adam Linke, severe bruises.

Alex Talzauski, severe bruises.

NO ONE KILLED.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 23.—A bad collision occurred on the Northern Pacific Railroad near Little Falls, Minn., at about 3:30 o'clock this morning. No one was killed, although a number of the trainmen and passengers were injured. The collision was between train No. 8 from Fargo and Winnipeg and a freight. It occurred at Watab, six miles from Sauk Rapids.

THE ROPE BROKE.

JOPLIN, Mo., May 23.—A new rope bought by Charles Tomlinson on Saturday broke yesterday while he was being hauled up to dinner from a depth of 150 feet in a South Carterville mine. His brains were dashed out.

A COLORADO TOWN SCORCHED.

CARBONDALE, Colo., May 23.—Fire early this morning scorched the east portion of the town, causing a loss of $20,000, on which there was little or no insurance. An insufficient supply of water prevented the firemen from fighting the flames to any advantage.

GRAND COURT IN SESSION.

The Convention of the Heroines of Jerico Opens This Morning.

The Grand Court of Missouri of Heroines of Jerico, colored Masons, met in annual session at Stolle's Hall this morning. About 150 delegates were present when Grand Matron, Mrs. M. L. Harrison of this city, raised her gavel. Mrs. A. B. Brooks of Moberly was at the Grand Secretary's desk and Mrs. Maggie Douglass of this city was appointed Treasurer pro tem. in the abscense of Mrs. Dorcas Watson of Galena, the Grand Treasurer. Grand Joshua Rev. Amos Johnson of Keokuk, Io., was present, as was also Past Grand Joshua G. W. Guy of Moberly.

A Committee on Credentials was appointed as follows: Mrs. G. J. Williams, Independence; Sallie Payne, Kansas City, and Mrs. A. E. Ferguson of St. Louis. The committe made a partial report, which will be completed this afternoon.

The Committee on Returns is composed of Mrs. G. E. Gay, Macon; Mrs. Maude Stanton, St. Joe, and Charlotte Williams.

Misses Georgie Peterson, Jennie Pointdexter and Sallie White compose the Committee on Visitors.

The convention will adjourn next Thursday evening.

COL. DALTON TAKES CHARGE.

The New Surveyor of the Port Assumes the Duties of His Office.

At 9 o'clock this morning Col. Richard Dalton took the position of Surveyor of the Port of St. Louis and custodian of the Customhouse. His bond, with the approval of the authorities at Washington, arrived yesterday. Last night he had a conversation with Col. J. O. Churchill, and that gentleman advised him to take charge this morning. Col. Dalton came to the office, accompanied by Ed Devoy and several others and was received by Col. Churchill. There were no formalities connected with giving over possession to Col. Dalton. After a few moments talk with Col. Churchill he called in the office employes and said: "I contemplate making no changes at once, and hope that you will all remain in your respective positions." A large number of callers were received by Col. Dalton during the morning. Some came to congratulate him and others to press their claims for office.

In reply to a question from a POST-DISPATCH reporter Col. Dalton said: "I shallmake no changes at present; in all probability none before the end of the month. What I shall do then I cannot yet say. I am glad to come to St. Louis, and shall do my best to gain the respect and esteem of those who are now my fellow citizens."

The Surveyor of the Port has about sixty places in his gift. He will have no difficulty in filling these, as already over 1,300 applications have been received, and the returns are not all in. On leaving his office Col. Churchill had over a thousand applications on file. Col. Churchill will probably engage in the fire insurance business.

MISSOURI CROPS.

Prospects of Fair Yield of Wheat—Grasses Making Good Growth.

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 23.—The following crop bulletin is issued by the State Agricultural Department to-day: The week just past has been one of almost continuous sunshine and high temperature, and allowed of constant prosecution of all work tending to benefit the agricultural interests of the State. The Southern counties had an average temperature that hardly reached the normal, while the northern regions ranged from one to three degrees above. The precipitation was strictly of a showery character and was confined mostly to the central and west central counties. Generally sufficient moisture still remained in the ground to answer all purposes. But a few counties, principally the Northwestern, report that a gentle rain would be beneficial. Taken as a whole, the week furnished the best growing weather of the season, and was all that could be desired to expedite farming interests and obviate the prevailing lateness of the season. The dry winds have so absorbed the surplus moisture as to retard the most advantageous work. The wheat prospects have commenced to assume a desperate aspect and are anything but encouraging. On sandy ground the outlook is several points in the lead of conditions on other soil. Upland plant shows the immediate effect of a cold winter and no snow protection, while the low land crop has suffered from excess of precipitation; a three-fourths crop will be a good yield, according to present prospects. Grasses have made rapid growth and pastures are in fine condition. Clover prospects are poor. A small worm is working much damage in localities. Oats are coming on finely and present prospects indicate that that this crop will be the most bountiful of any product this season. Corn has absorbed the major portion of farmers' time and attention this week, and planting has been pushed by all available means. A large acreage of the early plant had to be replanted and the coming week will probably witness the completion of this work. Such of the first plant as survived and flourished through the wet and cold period is now being cultivated, but the plant is generally very spindling. The prospects are very poor considering the State as a whole, owing to the wet and cold weather and continuous high winds that prevailed during the most critical period in the development of this crop. Early fruits are dropping badly but the late has a full quota of blossoms and will comprise the major portion of the season's production. Strawberries are in full bloom in many localities, and are generally reported as being in fine condition. Garden making has been well attended to during the week, and though most of the early plant of vegetables rotted the outlook even now is several points better than last season at the corresponding date. The outlook for the potato crop is not very good, most of the early plant having rotted; the backwardness of the season will cause a very perceptible decrease in the acreage.

IOWA CROPS.

DES MOINES, Io., May 23.—The Iowa crop bulletin reports an ideal week for corn planting, which is practically completed, except where plowing has been delayed by excessive moisture. The acreage will exceed last year's, but is not above the average of recent seasons. Seed is sprouting well. Oats are thin, but all crops show improvement. Compared with last year the season is ten days early.

FAILED TO OPEN.

Suspension of the Elmira National Bank—Other Failures.

ELMIRA, N. Y., May 23.—The Elmira National Bank closed its doors this morning. The bank's failure is the result of the recent financial troubles of Col. D. C. Robinson. The bank examiners last week reported the bank perfectly solvent in case Col. Robinson paid his obligations; if not, the depositors then would be paid in full with a small loss to the stockholders.

DOMESTIC SEWING MACHINE CO.

NEW YORK, May 23.—The Domestic Sewing Machine Co. was yesterday placed in the hands of the Sheriff, the attachment being made on two notes given the Astor Place Bank for $26,000. The bank people claim that the machine company willfully concealed the state of its finances and misrepresented its assets when the loan was made. The bank demanded the return of the loan and the company refused. They then attached on the notes.

The directors held a meeting shortly after the attachment and decided to fight one of the attachments. They claim that their representations to the bank were correct, and say the company assets are far in excess of its liabilities, they owning over $200,000 worth of stock in the Domestic Manufacturing Co.

NATIONAL BANK OF DEPOSIT.

NEW YORK, May 23.—The National Bank of Deposit under the advice of the clearing-house committee yesterday announced its suspension and stated that depositors would be paid in full. The suspension was brought about by the Seaboard National Bank through which it cleared notifying the officers that they could not clear through them longer. The bank is a small one, its capital being $300,000, a net surplus of $60,000 and an undivided dividends to the amount of $22,300 was the last statement of the bank. The bank acted as correspondent of the Dwiggins Bank in the west.

GEORGIA GROCERS.

BRUNWICK, Ga., May 23.—Yesterday the wholesale grocery business of Mayer & Ulman was placed in the hands of H. Kaufman, temporary receiver. This was done to protect creditors of the firm. Mr. Ulman, who committed suicide last week was the financier of the concern, while Mayer was the moneyed backer, but knew nothing about the books. The liabilities amount to about $280,000. A bill was filed for the benefit of all creditors by Crevatt & Whitfield.

FOUGHT FOR LIFE.

An American's Desperate Battle With Mexican Bandits.

SINGLE-HANDED HE COMPELS THE BRIGANDS TO RETREAT.

Escape of Kentucky Convicts Frustrated—Found the Body of a Murdered Man in a Tree—Tennessee Farmer Shot by a Horsethief—A Day's Criminal Record.

PIEDRAS Negras, Mexico., May 23.—A telegram was received to-day at the general offices of the Mexican International Railway here giving an account of a desperate encounter between Boon Baker, the American station agent at Gabriel on the one hand, and Tomas Meirujo, a prominent ranchman and bandit, with a herder, on the other. Mr. Baker was out on horseback armed for possible game, and had not gone over a quarter of a mile from the station when Tomas and his mozo joined him. Rain began to fall and Mr. Baker bade the ranchman good day and started for the station. He had not gone more than 800 yards when a sharp crack of a rifle made him look around. A little dust stirred to his left showed where the bullet had struck. Another shot followed, when Baker halted, drew his rifle and dismounted. Still another shot, the bullet again stirring up the earth to his left. A little short, thought Mr. Baker, the shots being quite wild. The ranchman said: "Put your gun back in the saddle and remount." This order was obeyed. The ranchman then ordered Baker to hand his rifle to the herder, meanwhile covering him with his Winchester. This order was naturally objected to. The order was repeated. "If you do not do it I'll kill you!" the ranchman yelled. The rifle was surrendered as a peace offering, as was also Mr. Baker's pistol.

"I'm a dandy," cried Don Tomas, and addressing the herder he said: "I'm going to kill this gringo chingado."

Baker sprang to the side of the ranchman's horse, seized the barrel of the Winchester and forced it aside just in time to escape the bullet which passed into the ground at his feet. Holding the rifle with his left hand, with his right Baker snatched the ranchman's sabre from its place on the saddle bow and gave him a thrust in the side. The sword was then used with better results on Don Tomas' head, though that was protected by a heavy sombrero. Several shots were fired by the herder, the last one passing through Baker's forearm, and the sabre dropped to the ground. Just then a section foreman came along and Don Tomas and his man made off. The local authorities immediately organized a posse and captured the bandit, who will probably die from the effects of the injuries received at the hands of the brave American.

PRISON ESCAPE FRUSTRATED.

FRANKFORT, Ky., May 23.—A desperate plan of an outbreak at the penitentiary was nipped in the bud yesterday by the vigilance of Warden Norman. For more than a week there has been suspicion of some kind of a conspiracy. A negro convict was used by the Warden as a detective. It was learned from him that there were about sixteen in the gang, all life men. George Meade, W. H. Little, Leon Brooksbire Harrison (colored), R. W. Tallent, William Hockenslith were all locked up and knives were found in the lappels of each of their coats. Each man had a file in his pocket. The plan was either to make the break while the Sunday-school teachers were coming out of the gate or follow a wagon to the gate where several of them would overpower the guards and so make their escape. Sufficient evidence has not yet been found against the others of the gang to cause their arrest, but a close watch is being kept.

SHOT BY A THIEF.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 23.—John C. Pinkerton, a prominent citizen of Eagleville, Rutherford Co., fired his Winchester at a thief who was driving away his road cart from in front of his house at 1 o'clock in the morning, when the man returned the fire and shot Pinkerton through the intestines, killing him. Mrs. Pinkerton ran out and assisted her husband into the house. Two posses of citizens are in pursuit of the murderer. It is thought that the murder was premeditated, and that the theft of the cart was a subterfuge to get Mr. Pinkerton to leave his house.

FOUND THE BODY IN A TREE.

BONNE TERRE, Mo., May 23.—The badly decomposed body of a man was found lodged in a tree on the bank of Big River, where it had been washed by a recent freshet. The dead man is supposed to be Columbus Boyer, who came to this place in November from a log camp with another log chopper named Bill Raggles. Boyer got into several rows and disappeared. Raggles told many conflicting stories as to what had become of his friend, and, since the finding of the body, has been arrested on suspicion of having murdered him. The prisoner, who is in jail at Farmington, says now that Boyer is at work near Cairo, Ill., under an assumed name.

CLOTHING CLERKS' STEALINGS.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 23.—Edward Carg and Cal Mathis, clerks of the Palace Clothing Co., have been arrested, charged with stealing goods worth $7,000 in the last two years. They were in the habit of sending extra goods on orders sent in by confederates, the latter keeping the extras. They also secured much cash by pocketing money received from customers and marking the slips exchange.

CARTER AGAIN RESPITED.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., May 23.—The Governor to-day further respited Charles R. Carter to June 3. He was to have been hanged the 26th inst.

AN IMPORTANT RULING.

Decision in Regard to Assigned Claims—Other Cases.

In the United States District Court this morning a case of interest to many creditors of the National Bank of the State of Missouri was decided. A citation was some time ago served upon Edgar T. Wells, agent for the creditors, requiring him to show cause why he should not pay to S. W. Krewals and R. S. Ransom, lawyers of New York, 50 per cent of certain claims assigned to them by clients. The defendant held that the court had no jurisdiction in the case, and this view was sustained by Judge Hallett. He stated that the agent had given a bond for the proper performance of his duties and that it was to be presumed, unless probable cause to the contrary should be shown, that be would perform his duty. When the final settlement was made, the plaintiff could bring the matter before the court, but not before. This is regarded as settling a great many cases of the same kind.

In the Circuit Court in the case of the Bellaire Stamping Co. against the Missouri Glass Co., verdict for $4,445 was given in favor of the plaintiff.

A bill of exceptions was filed in the case of Robert E. Steiner, trustee, against Thomas H. West and others.

A bill of exceptions was allowed in the case of Charles M. Newcomb against the Imperial Life Insurance Co.

Judge Hallett leaves for Denver to-night.

TO BE REMOVED AT ONCE.

The Board of Health Takes Prompt Action on the Crum Livery Stable Fire.

At the meeting of the Board of Health yesterday afternoon the fire at Crum's livery stables, Channing avenue and Locust street, was an important theme of discussion. A resolution was adopted requesting the Mayor to order the Street Commissioner to at once put on a force of from fifty to sixty men to remove the debris of the fire, so that the carcasses of all dead horses might at once be carted away and disposed of.

The Mayor, who presided at the meeting, took the matter in hand at once, and sent an order to Street Commissioner Murphy to have at least fifty men report for work on the ruins this morning.

At the same time, pursuant to a resolution passed, the dead animal contractor was ordered to place every available wagon and all the force he could possibly spare on the same work.

Mr. Nagel introduced a resolution which stated in effect that inasmuch as the owners of the property had not taken the necessary steps to have the debris cleared away so that the dead animals could be removed, that they should be held liable for the cost of the extra labor put on the work by the city. The motion was adopted.

Street Commissioner Murphy stated this morning that he had sent sixty men to the scene of the fire and that he intended to give it his personal supervision, as he considered it very important for the health of the neighborhood to have the ruins cleared at once.

MINISTER BLOUNT'S STATUS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 23.—Some questions have been raised as to the present competency of Mr. Blount to discharge the duties of United States Minister to Hawaii, owing to the public circumstances surrounding his appointment, which, of course, involves the validity and force of all that he has done. Inquiry at the Department of State establishes clearly the fact that there at least, no doubt is entertained in respect to these points. As soon as Mr. Blount receives notice of his appointment, which, by the way, will be Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the Government of Hawaii, he may go before the nearest United States consular officer and take the oath of office. From that moment his salary as Minister begins. Under the usual practice he would not be competent to discharge the duties of Minister until he presented his credentials to the Provisional Government, and these credentials have not yet reached him. But if the Hawaiian Government is disposed to waive that formality, and such acts of courtesy are by no means infrequent in diplomatic usage, he would be accorded all the rights and privileges of a Minister as soon as notice was conveyed to the Hawaiian Government of his appointment. In addition to this, however, Mr. Blount went to Hawaii not only as a Commissioner, but as an "Envoy," and it is said at the department that there is no act he could have committed—not even perhaps negotiation of a treaty, and certainly not the exchange of diplomatic notes—which would not have been just as fully within his competence as if he were the regularly recognized Minister to Hawaii.

AGAINST THE KAISER.

The German Centrists Will Oppose the Army Bill in the Reichstag.

BERLIN, May 23.—The party of the Center, concerning whose position so much doubt has been felt, has issued an electoral address. In this address the Centrists take a decided stand against the army bill. They say that the question at issue is not the securing of the existence of the Fatherland, but whether a military state shall be established and Germany transformed into an army camp in time of peace, thereby stripping the country of those who ought to maintain its industries. The address goes on state that the Center party will oppose the army bill and the amendment supported by Freiherr Von Heiningen Huene, but will vote in favor of everything necessary to maintain a strong army and an efficient navy, at the same time taking into due consideration the question of the people's capacity to stand additional financial burdens. In addition to discussing the army bill, the address announces that a motion will be offered by the Center in favor of permitting the Jesuits to re-enter Germany, and the address also states that the Center party is engaged in an earnest struggle against the false and unchristian doctrines of the Socialists and their so-called liberal legislation. The Center also demands reform in the financial administration of the empire.

WRECKED A TRAIN.

First Effect of the Chicago & Northwestern Telegraphers' Strike.

EVERY MAN ON THE LINE LEFT HIS KEY THIS MORNING

And at 5 O'Clock Eighteen Freight Cars Were Piled on Top of the Engine at Evanston—Chief Ramsey Says the Order to Strike Was a Forgery.

CHICAGO, May 23.—The threatened strike of telegraphers on the Chicago & Northwestern road occurred this morning at 4 o'clock. At 5 o'clock a disastrous wreck occurred, involving many thousands of dollars' worth of property and causing a blockade of the entire Milwaukee division of the road.

It was just at 4 o'clock when all the operators north of Evanston as by one impulse failed to answer the calls on their instruments from the train dispatcher's office. Scarcely had the officials been notified and they in turn had ordered the utmost caution in moving trains when the first accident occurred. A heavy freight train composed of twenty cars of ice, hay and beer for Chicago reached North Evanston, and though the switch signals were properly set, struck an open switch and left the rails, the cars heaping upon each other, completely blocking all the tracks. The engineer and fireman of the train saved themselves by jumping.

Eighteen freight cars were piled upon the top of the engine. The accident happened at 6:15 and from that time on until noon all the traffic above that point had to be transferred. Hundreds of suburbanites and many through passengers from Green Bay and intervening points were delayed and put to the inconvenience of trotting through the rain to the transfer coaches.

Combined with the accident the strike has interfered with passenger and freight traffic on the Milwaukee branch. Suburban trains made slow time during the morning and no through trains succeeded in passing the blockade. The number of men who stopped work was estimated all the way from twenty-five by the company's officers to 800, the claim of the employes. If Chief Ramsay has made an order declaring a general strike it would eventually cover 8,000 and more miles of road operated by the company and more or less affect 866 operators. This afternoon men still remain at their posts at intervals all along the line. At Evansville, Wilmette and North Evanston it it was stated the local operators had left the union and declared their intention of remaining with the company.

Later in the day it was learned that the strike was the result of a bogus dispatch sent over the wires of the company at 10 o'clock last night, the origin of which is not known. As soon as Grand Chief Ramsey heard of the walkout this morning he immediately proceeded to repair the damage as far as he could. He sent a committee to the general officers of the road in this city with authority to denounce the outrage and with a message to all members of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, ordering them to return to work and explaining that no official order would be given to strike, if that action seems necessary, until every division has been paroled. Several hundred operators, at various points along the road, left their keys in obedience to the spurious mandate, but all returned to work this morning when Mr. Ramsey's order passed over the lines.

Mr. Ramsay, when seen at his hotel this morning, said the bogus order was no doubt the work of an enemy of the telegraphers' order, and everything was being done to discover his identity and to rectify the damage caused by him. No radical steps would be taken, he said, until a conference had been had with General Manager Whitman of the road.

The demands of the strikers are for a uniform and standard schedule of wages, and also for an assurance that no operator shall be discharged merely because he is a member of the order.

According to Chief Telegrapher Ramsey the main reason for the strike is "the systematic attempt by the railways to annihilate our order. The matter of the schedule of wages would not be a difficult one to adjust, but the discharging of men for no other reason than that they are members of the order is a more serious thing. We are ready to stay out for months, if necessary, for our treasury is full and we have the sympathy and assistance of most of the men in the railway brotherhoods. It is impossible to say what the officials of the road will do."

KANSAS COAL FIELDS.

AN ORDER WILL BE ISSUED CALLING OUT EVERY MINER IN THE STATE.

PITTSBURG, Kan., May 23.—The situation in the Kansas coal fields to-day is the same as that of yesterday. President Walter has returned from Scammon and is busy preparing the general order soon to be issued, calling on every union miner in the State to go out. To-day he fixed Monday next as the date when the Kansas order will be issued, and Monday week as the time when Missouri will be asked to assist in the struggle. The Leavenworth union met this morning and sent a message to the Executive Board, stating that they were ready to walk out whenever the order was issued. Labor Commissioner Todd has communicated with the Executive Board, tendering the sesvices of the State Bureau of Labor in any way it may be useful in securing an amicable and speedy settlement of the trouble. At all the different camps in the district the law and order committee report everything quiet and orderly.

BACKED UP BY THE GOVERNOR.

TOPEKA, Kan., May 23.—Gov. Lewelling, speaking of the strike of the coal miners in the Cherokee District, said this morning: "They are right and so long as they maintain their present attitude and refrain from violence they will have the support and sympathy of all citizens who believe in fair play. The strikers are no doubt encouraged in their fight by the conviction that the party in power in Kansas is in sympathy with them. We are the friend of the workingman so long as he is in the right, and in this fight there is no doubt where the right lies."

DANGER AT COAL CREEK.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 23.—Quartermaster Wenning, on duty with the Army of the Tennessee at Coal Creek, is in the city today. He says the situation in the mining regions is very serious. There are miners all around the forts who are spoiling for a fight and hundreds of uneasy men in Kentucky only an hour and a half distant by rail. The situation is like a keg of powder—only a spark is necessary to produce an explosion. Lieut. Wenning says it is only a question of time as to the spark being forthcoming. The force at Fort Anderson consists of 115 men and at Fort Lewis forty-three men. The artillery at Fort Anderson consists of a 3-inch rifle, a 4½-inch mountain Howitzer and a Gatligu gun placed in lunsette.

THEIR FIFTY-THIRD

The Episcopalian Diocesan Convention Opened at St. George's Church.

REV. S. H. GREENE PREACHES THE INTRODUCTORY SERMON.

He Makes a Plea for the Old Religion—Bishop Tuttle Opens the Business Meeting With His Annual Address—Delegates Given a Dinner by the Ladies of the Church.

The fifty-third annual convention of the Episcopalians of the diocese of Missouri was begun this morning at St. George's Church, corner of Olive street and Pendleton avenue. Morning prayer and holy communion in the chapel preceded the organization of the convention. At 10 o'clock the clergy formed in procession in the vestry room in order of juniority, with Rt. Rev. D. S. Tuttle, Bishop of the Diocese of Missouri, and Rt. Rev. C. R. Hale, Bishop of Cairo, bring up the rear. The choir led the way through the chancel, down the west aisle and up the left aisle. The chair then entered their stalls, and the bishops and the clergy who were to take part in the services took seats in the chancel. The others of the clergy occupied the front pews. The clergy who formed the procession were Rev. Holcombe, D. D., of New York; J. J. Wilkins, Des Moines, Io.; Wayne of Moberly, Mo., Higson of Rolla, Mo., G. G. Davis of Jefferson City, Hatch of Monroe, Mo., Tomlins of East St. Louis, and the following city clergy, Short, Robert, Green, Mason, Collins, Gierlow, Newton, Miller, Dooris, Reed, Eastin, Deane, Wilkinson and Carroll Davis. Dr. Schuyler, Dean of the Cathedral and Dr. Scheetz of Kirkwood brought up the rear and were immediately in front of the bishops. The clergy were robed in cassock, surplice and stole and the bishops were their black silk episcopal robes with flowing sleeves of lawn. Rev. K. M. Deane of St. Andrew's Church, this city, read the opening prayers and the general confession; Rev. John Gierlow read the first lesson, Rev. Charles F. Collins of this city the second lesson, Rev. John W. Higson of Rolla the creed and collects, Very Rev. M. Schuyler, D. D., dean of the Cathedral, the epistle, and Rt. Rev. C. R. Hale, D. D., Bishop of Cairo, the gospel. Rev. S. H. Green, rector of St. John's Church, this city, preached the convention sermon. He made a strong plea for a stricter adherence to the faith and practice of the Episcopal Church, maintaining that the old creed was the only answer to modern ecclesiastical problems. He urged a revival of the older and simpler doctrines. He said that ultra-Protestantism and ultra-Romanism find their issue in unbelief, and that untrammeled private judgment and papal infallibility lead to the same end. The Episcopal Church occupied the happy medium. Rev. G. Tuckerman os St. Stephen's Mission this city, who was master of ceremonies, read the offertory sentences and delivered notices. The holy communion was celebrated by Bishop Tuttle. The offertory was for the missions of the diocese. Bishop Tuttle administered the benediction after which the clergy and chair retired to disrobe.

CONVENTION CALLED TO ORDER.

The clergy reassembled in the chapel and Bishop Tuttle called the convention to order. Mr. John R. Triplett, the Secretary of the last convention, called the role of the clergy and the bishop appointed a committee on credentials for the lay delegates. The convention then took a recess for lunch until 2:30, when the delegates reassembled and listened to the report of the Committee on Lay Credentials.

At 3 o'clock the Bishop read his annual address. Bishop Tuttle will hold a reception for the delegates and the parishioners of the city this evening from 8 to 11 o'clock at the school of the Good Shepherd, 1818 South Compton avenue. The convention will begin its business session promptly at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning, and continue during the afternoon. Thursday also will be devoted to business, and Friday will be given ovher to the meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary. Almost all the clergy of the diocese, which embraces the eastern half of the State, are in attendance and lay delegations of five or less are present from the several parishes. The ladies of all the city parishes are the hostesses of theclergy and laity during the convention and entertained them at a sumptuous lunch in St. George's guild rooms to-day.

IF METERS ARE PUT IN

Forest Park Boulevard May Be Sprinkled With a Hose.

The Board of Public Improvements met at 10 o'clock this morning with all members present, Sewer Commissioner Southard having returned to the city.

The Columbia Club, near Vandeventer and McPherson avenues, made application for an ordinance to vacate an alley in the rear of their premises. It is the intention of the club to dedicate enough ground for a new alley when the old one is vacated. Three ordinances for street and alley grading and sewer construction were approved.

The Lindell Railway Co. was notified that unless it repaired the street torn up by the company on Washington avenue, between Compton and Jefferson avenues, and also on Garrison avenue, between Lucas and Washington avenues, the city would proceed to do it properly at the company's expense.

June 13 was set as the day for receiving bids for annual repairs on the city wharf.

Mr. E. C. Robbins of the Forest Park boulevard contractors appeared before the board and made a long argument in support of their application to sprinkle the boulevard by hose instead of by cart. The application had already been referred to a joint committee and it was quite evident the committee's mind was a unit on the subject.

Mr. Robbins was asked if he did not think the hose would be used to sprinkle the grass as well as the streets. He said he thought it natural that some of the water would incidentally fall on the grass.

After some discussion the committee recommended tnat the contractors be allowed to sprinkle by hose instead of cart, provided water meters were put in and the water used paid for at the usual rates.

Mr. Robbins thanked the board and retired.

A recess was then taken until noon, when bids for the annual repairs of macadam on the streets were opened and referred to the Committee on Streets.

Complain of Cutting Wires.

The Missouri Electric Light & Power Co. wrote to the Supervisor of City Lighting, Mr. A. J. O'Reilly, a lengthy letter calling him to account for his action at the fire Sunday night at Crum's livery stable in cutting their wires in the alley north of Locust street. They claimed there was no necessity for it as the current was turned off. Mr. O'Reilly replied that he had only cut such wires as Chief Lindsay informed him endangered the lives or interfered with the working of the firemen.

If the Electric company was not satisfied with his action Mr. O'Reilly thought they ought to have Ordinance No. 16,901 repealed, or else put their wires under ground.

The supervisor informed Manager H. A. Wagner that several attempts had been made that night to turn on the currents, to the imminent danger of the firemen.

Must Use More Carts.

Turner in settling the difficulties of the Grand avenue and People's Railway companies in the matter of laying tracks for the former road in the vicinity of Tower Grove Park.

The Grand Avenue people appointed Mr. Judson, and the People's Railway Gen. Turner.

It is supposed the three gentlemen can solve the problem.

The Newman case is one which has excited considerable interest. Mr. Newman sued the Western Union Telegraph Co. for $2,000 damages for mental anguish as the result of the non-delivery of a telegram from him to his wife and daughter in St. Louis. He was out of the city and learned that the part of town where they lived had been swept by a cyclone. He telegraphed to learn how they were but could get no answer for thirty-six hours, during which time he suffered the mental anguish which he thinks worth $2,000. He was given a judgment for $300, which decision was reversed by the Court of Appeals.

The case of Teresa Badaracco against Mrs. Susan Dellacella for $10,000 damages for an alleged assault was tried in Judge Dillon's court yesterday and late last evening the jury returned a verdict for the defendant. It was proven that there was no assault, Mrs. Dellacella having simply put Miss Badaracco out of her room for having referred to Mr. Dellacella in an insulting manner.

Albert Nels, a young man 24 years of age, living at 1617 Franklin avenue created quite a commotion in the ante room of the Mayor's office to-day by being attacked with an epileptic fit. Dr. Fitzpatrick of the City Dispensary was summoned to his assistance and after stitching up a cut across his nose sustained by his falling on the stove the young man was sent home in an ambulance.

Lactated Food Saves Babies' Lives.

We have absolute proof from mothers and physicians that in thousands of cases lactated food has saved babies' lives when other foods had failed. Forty of these letters in a book, with the pictures of the children, sent free on application. Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt.

TO BUILD UP both the flesh and the strength of pale, puny, scrofulous children, get Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It's the best thing known for a wasted body and a weakened system. It thoroughly purifies the blood, enriches it, and makes effective every natural means of cleansing, repairing, and nourishing the system. In recovering from "La Grippe," pneumonia, fevers, or other debilitating diseases, nothing can equal it as an appetizing, restorative tonic to bring back health and vigor. Cures nervous and general debility.

Purify and rid your blood of the taints and poisons that make it easy for disease to fasten its hold.

The "Discovery" is the only blood-cleanser, flesh-builder, and strength-restorer so thorough in its effects that it can be guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case, you have your money back.

There's no uncertainty about Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Its proprietors will pay you $500 cash if they can't cure your Catarrh, no matter how bad your case.

The Presbyterian Assembly Favors Taking Up the Brigg's Case.

COMMITTEE REPORTS TO BE HEARD THIS AFTERNOON.

When the Question of the Professor's Status in the Church Will Be Fairly Before the Convention—Last Day's Session of the Cumberland Presbyterians at Little Rock.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The Judicial Committee of the General Assembly has decided to recommend that the assembly hear the Briggs case and the report will be made the first thing at the afternoon session. The committee it is said was unanimously of opinion that the appeal by the prosecuting committee from the judgment of the New York Presbytery which acquitted the professor was regular in form, that is, that the record in the case was technically correct in all details. Upon the disposition of the appeal the committee divided and two reports will be made. The majority will recommend that the appeal be entertained and heard; the minority that it be sent to the New York synod for hearing. The majority in favor of hearing the case (anti-Briggs) is reported to be in the ratio of 4 to 1.

Taylor of New York. Experience was given in the few minutes allowed by nearly 200 people.

Burnet's Report.

Ex-President George Burnet of the Board of Public Improvements submitted to-day his yearly report to Mayor Walbridge.

The most important features in it are the recommendation of vitrified brick for the improvement of cross streets and alleys, and Mr. Burnet's comments on the recent law enacted by the Legislature compelling property owners to pay the entire cost of street improvements. He does not favor the law in as much as it casts an unequal burden on a certain class of property owners.

While there was a decided improvement in the quality of the hogs on to-day's market and a few loads of good packing grades there was not enough of that kind to supply the demand. Weather forecast for 36 hours beginning at 8 a. m. to-day: For Missouri—Generally fair; warmer winds, becoming southerly.

The storm central yesterday in Iowa has moved eastward to Lake Huron it having been accompanied upon its course by rains and severe local storms.

Light rain also fell throughout Kansas and in portions of Texas. Behind the storm there has been a decided fall in temperature causing frosts and occasionally freezing weather in portions of Kansas, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Upper Michigan.

For St. Louis and vicinity: Fair; warmer Wednesday.

CONGRESS should spare the sugar of the poor and tax the "sugar" of the rich.

THE first nation with which we get into trouble at the Fair is a republic. Would it not have been better to look around for some effete monarchy to snatch?

ONE of the consequences of a strict enforcement of the Geary law will be the loss by Chinese of the spiritual benefit derived from the Missionaries now in the Flowery Kingdom.

WHO is the American officer who proposes that Russia and America shall together possess the world? He has a great head at least. Can't we have a little banner made with the knout and the electrical chair crossed?

SPECULATORS are uncertain whether the withdrawal of the Peoria distilleries from the Whisky Trust is in good faith or merely a stock jobbing trick. As the trust itself is fraudulent, nothing but fraud can be expected of it.

MAY not "Admiral Nachimoff" of the big Russian war vessel running to this country be in reality Admiral Snatchemoff, and would it not be well for Russian refugees in America to lie low when the battleship heaves in sight?

IF, as some maintain, all dutiable articles which are controlled by trusts should be put on the free list we would soon be left with no revenue from customs, as all production seems to be drifting into combines of one kind or another.

PRINCESS EULALIA's manner is said to be very charming and free from the restraints of etiquette. That is, she knows how to be natural. This must be a bitter disappointment to the dudes and dudines who have been thumbing their etiquette books for the past few weeks.

IT appears that the German Emperor is supreme commander of the German armies in war only, the federated princes commanding their respective armies in peace. William is a mere war lord, out of a job when no fighting is going on, and he wants to be in good shape when the time comes for him to act.

DELEGATE RAWLINS of Utah has recalled his letter of resignation, tendered because the President declined to accept his dictation with reference to appointments in his Territory. Mr. Rawlins has come to the wise conclusion that it is better to serve as territorial representative with salary than as an example of folly without pay.

SENATOR QUAY is a man of the most inflexible morality. He rented apartments in Chicago and expected to spend a month there during the Fair, but will boycott the show if the gates are opened Sundays. There is something touching in this devotion to duty in the man who once "touched" the Pennsylvania Treasury for $450,000.

AS THE Geary law is practically a dead letter so long as there is no money on hand with which to provide for its enforcement, the responsibility rests with Congress. Should that body refuse to grant the necessary appropriation the law will die of inanition like many other statutes which have not been directly repealed, but which it is impolitic to enforce.

CONGRESSMAN WHITING has asked Postmaster-General Maxwell: "Can a fellow will his job?" If a fellow can will his job Mr. Whiting may rest assured that no Republican postmaster is going to will his job to a Democrat, however worthy and competent the Democrat may be. What civil service reform there is in this country is pretty much confined to the Democratic party.

WHEN the chiefs of police have finished their discussion of theories of crime detection and prevention, they have a fine field for putting them to practical test in Chicago. It is reported that exhibits to the value of $700,000 have been stolen from the Exposition, and it is safe to say that few of the criminals at large, in this country at least, will fail to visit the Fair with a view of combining business with pleasure.

THE receivers of sugar bounty are doubtless surprised at Gov. Hogg's refusal to permit the acceptance of bounty for sugar made on a plantation belonging to the State of Texas. They will probably regard the Texas statesman as a man of the very poorest business qualifications, not knowing a good thing when it is in sight, and foolishly averse to the methods by which one section or interest may be enriched at the expense of another.

THE friendly bout between Judge Edmunds and Sheriff Staed over the handling of forfeited bond money is a pleasant incident for St. Louis, not because these two officials differ but because there is forfeited bond money over which to differ. It is significant of the admirable change that has taken place in the Criminal Court that there should be any trouble over the proper method of disposing of money from that source. The court was not bothered before either with the money or the method of handling it. No matter how the question may be settled, it is gratifying to know that the forfeited bond money is being collected and that the school fund will come into its own.

A POLITICIAN'S MORALITY.

Politicians of the "practical" variety are apt to take a cynical view of public morality and most of them hold that purity in politics is an iridescent dream. Privately they will justify vote-buying and any other corrupt practice if it will win an election, but few are bold enough to publicly defend corruption.

Ex-Gov. Bulkely of Connecticut is an exception. In that State a corrupt practices bill is pending, and Mr. Bulkely was called as an expert to give information and make recommendations. He testified fully and frankly. "I don't believe there is a more honest man in Connecticut," said he, "than he who for a day's work goes to the polls and votes as you want him to." And again he says, "I think it is right for you as a candidate to secure that man's vote, if he is a man without principle and ignorant, by any means you can use." Men of this sort unable to judge for themselves "must be influenced by those who know what is right."

Gov. Bulkely differs from scores of others in high places only in being more frank than they. He has the virtue of veracity. But what must be the condition of political life which can produce men of his stamp? His testimony assumes that free government is a failure and that the ignorant, the indifferent and the unscrupulous must be used as voting cattle by "those who know what is right." According to his theory Democracy gives place to "the rule of the best," the best being those who have the longest purses and can buy the most votes.

This frank avowal indicates a degree of moral debauchery which few have hitherto been willing to acknowledge. Even John Wanamaker and Matt Quay have some sense of shame and have never publicly acknowledged corruption. The admission indicates, too, a belief among the corruptionists themselves that the whole country is so destitute of what is called the moral sense that they run no risk in thus publicly acknowledging their baseness. Men of this kind, no matter which party they belong to, long since ceased to be Democrats, if they ever did believe in popular self-government. They are deluding themselves with the notion that society in America is differentiated into classes and masses, and that the masses are of use only as they serve the purposes of "those who know what is right" and can pay for what they want.

THE SUGAR BOUNTY.

The people of the other States of the Union may be congratulated for two reasons on the fact that Texas has gone outside of the proper functions of government to run a sugar plantation. In the first place it has given Gov. Hogg an opportunity to write an admirable protest against the general injustice, the violation of the spirit of the constitution and of sound governmental principles embodied in the bounty system. In the second place it has enabled him to demonstrate the particular injustice of giving a bounty to sugar planters.

In vetoing the act enabling Texas to draw her quota of the sugar bounty Gov. Hogg expresses in a vigorous and stimulating way some sound sentiments on the subject of State independence of national aid and supervision, and with reference to the true functions of Government. His denunciation of the abuse of the taxing power and the injustice involved in the bounty system is merely an amplification of the famous utterance of Justice Miller when he said: "To lay with one hand the power of the Government on the property of the citizen and with the other to bestow it upon favored individuals to aid private enterprises and build up private fortunes, is none the less a robbery because it is done under the forms of law."

The protest against robbery by governmental decree in the form of taxation and under cover of a plea for the general welfare cannot be repeated too often and voicing it in behalf of a great State just before the subject is to be taken up by Congress, Gov. Hogg's message is a timely and valuable utterance.

But the message has special interest from the fact that it points out the particular injustice of the sugar bounty in that it is aid to rich producers, who are able to make ample profits without it. In showing that Texas, with decrepit convict labor and on a plantation comparing unfavorably with those of private owners, realizes a net annual profit of $61,976 without bounty on an investment estimated at $245,256, point is given to the Governor's comparison of the poor producers of grain and cotton who are taxed, with the rich producers of sugar who are aided by taxation.

The sugar bounty is therefore condemned as a violation of the principles of justice and good government and as a special governmental favor to rich and prosperous citizens at the expense of poorer citizens engaged in less remunerative occupations and more in need of government aid.

AGREEMENT AND DIFFERENCE.

The Presbyterian General Assembly has erred in implying that the secular press in general and the advocates of the Sunday opening of the World's Fair are opposed to the "weekly day of rest."

We have yet to hear from any source, even the bitterest opponents of the old Sunday blue laws, a hint that one day in seven ought not to be set aside as a rest day. It is the general consensus of intelligent men that the weekly day of rest is necessary to moral, mental and physical well-being. The only difference is that one side insists that there shall be the largest liberty for the individual in the choice of the manner of spending the day consonant with respect for the rights of others. It insists that each man is the best judge of his own needs and of the use of the day which will be most beneficial to him. It urges that to the man compelled to labor the other six days in the week opportunities for instructive and recuperative activity offer the means of spending the day which will bring the best results.

The other side insists that the individual should be denied this choice and be forced to observe the day in accordance with certain religious doctrines and that Government power be exercised for this purpose. The issue is between intolerant opinion seeking to impose itself upon others in the form of law and liberality defending personal freedom from interference.

In the practical issue between the opening or closing of the World's Fair and other public institutions it is merely a question of whether it is better to force people on Sunday to choose between idleness and pernicious amusement or permit them to reap the benefits of recreative entertainment and elevating instruction.

ONE of the merits of an income tax often overlooked is that it will relieve production and trade of the burdens imposed by tax upon the materials of manufacture. It is a common place of political economy that so far as production is concerned a tax on raw materials or partly manufactured articles which enter into the finished product is a hindrance to industry which in a rational scheme of taxation would not be tolerated for an instant. An income tax, on the contrary, does not bear in any way upon production. If all revenue were raised by taxes upon incomes derived from sources other than current labor, trade would be absolutely free and production would be unfettered. A wise application of this principle would result in a healthy development of legitimate business and give America control of the markets of the world.

THE Presbyterian General Assembly has denounced Sunday opening at the World's Fair and proclaimed a boycott should the openers win the day. Why not compromise by permitting all religious bodies to hold services on the grounds? This would enable people of all shades of opinion to get what they want and at the same time prevent the dives and low shows from grabbing wayward souls. It is neither sensible nor wise from a moral point of view to surrender Chicago one day in seven to the emissaries of Satan.

OWING to a blunder made by one of Mr. Wanamaker's left-over employes the resignation of Delegate Rawlins of Utah did not reach the Governor until after the letter of recall had been received. But, as Mr. Rawlins has shown himself hopelessly unequal to the duties of territorial office-broker and never pretended to know anything about legislation, the Governor should accept the resignation. A man who cannot help make laws and who can't get a fourth-class post-office is a useless expense.

THE Rev. Dr. Booth, at least, does not believe that New York has lost her prestige. When there was a deafening cry in the Presbyterian Assembly for "the question" he waved his hand and shouted: "If you were to call for the question for an hour you could not put me down; I am from New York!" The Empire State should be proud of Dr. Booth.

THE financial stringency may not be altogether due to a short strawberry crop. There has been a chilly spring, and the sales of beer have been everywhere lighter. When the warm summer weather revives the great American thirst the currency will begin to get a move on.

THE Infanta wore no hat when her photograph was taken in Washington. Now if the royal lady would only appear at the theater without a hat, a fashion might be established that would really build up the drama in Columbia.

ST. LOUIS is constantly setting a good example to all other cities. There hasn't been even a little bit of trouble with the Chinamen of St. Louis in carrying out the Geary law.

IT must be remembered that the Presbyterian Assembly, where "heated demonstrations" occur whenever the Briggs matter comes up, is not composed of Columbian ladies.

MINNESOTA noses and ears that chance to weather the winter get lost in the spring. In Sunday night's wind Mr. Gunderson's ear was cut off by a flying board.

THE towing companies want $7,000 to tow the caravels from New York to Chicago. It is hard to fill the bosom of a towing company with patriotic zeal.

LET the Windy City take comfort. So long as the weather is cold there will be no flies on the Fair.

To Mr. Lepere's dainty lyrics Alfred G. Robyn has wrought a musical setting that places him in the front rank of American operatic composers. He has long been noted for his ability to write striking ballads, but in the music of his new opera he shows unsuspected powers employed with most satisfactory results.

"Jacinta, the Maid of Manzanillo," a romantic opera produced for the first time at the Grand Opera-house last evening, is a musical work destined for more than local or ephemeral popularity. Its composers, Messrs. Lepere and Robyn, unlike the prophets, found themselves much honored last evening in their own country. An audience, representative of musical and social circles, a goodly contingent of first nighters and the critical element graced the initial production. First nights are not of frequent occurrence in St. Louis, but an audience that was representative, critical and appreciative were present last evening to pass judgment on the work of the two young St. Louisans. Their verdict was unanimous that the work is a great success.

Mexico and the ever-ebullient spirit of rebellion in its tropical climate is a virgin field for operatic composition, full of picturesque resources. By selecting it as the groundwork of their opera Messrs. Lepere and Robyn have gained novelty in theme and ample opportunity for dramatic incidents and glowing stage pictures. The theme of the opera is simple. Jacinta is betrothed to Morelos, a naval commander, who returns from an expedition to find himself a rebel by a change of government in his absence. The Alcalde falls in love with Jacinta and imprisons Morelos to put him out of the way. Morelos and Miguel, the captain of the guard, plot against the Governor and are discovered. As they are about to be shot a messenger rushes in having a document declaring that the Government has again changed hands, the Alcade is deposed and Morelos is appointed to succeed him. Mr. Lepere has elaborated this story rather too fully heaping it with incidents that hamper the main action and lengthen the performance. But aside from this Mr. Lepere has done his work well, and there are any number of witty lines. His dialogue is humorous, but needs a little judicious pruning to curtail its length. This will make it crisp, and will render the action more sustained.

With a thorough understanding of Mr. Robyn's ability as a song-writer, the librettist furnished him with a set of exquisite lyrics which the composer has set to music striking and original. The composer of "Answer" and "You" essayed a mighty task when he undertook to surpass these efforts, but his success is admirable. All through the opera there are lyrics that will live and grow popular, as "Answer" and "You" have done, none the less for daintiness and beauty of phrasing than for the tone setting of the composer. Mr. Lepere's verses are not those of a mere rhymster. There is not an American opera on the boards to-day that approaches "Jacinta" in literary excellence.

Mr. Robyn is lavish with his melodic resources. Choruses, solos and concerted members follow each other in rapid succession bewildering the auditor with an embarrassment of richness. It would be a lengthy task to analyze the musical structure of the opera. There is nothing to criticise everything to praise. The opening and closing choruses are of a nature never heard in comic opera. Opening with the combined strength of the full chorus, the number advances, interspersed with solos, duets and trios. In this way the first number, while fully ten minutes in length, does not tire in the least. The grand finale is a decided novelty and one might add the prettiest, most melodious and effective operatic numbers of the light operatic order ever written. Taking up the theme of the opening chorus the principals repeat snatches of their most taking airs, so that in effect it is a musical epilogue. It is a daring piece of work to risk an ante-climax, but the success attendant on such boldness adds to the effect.

Mr. Robyn shows wonderful versatility not only in the quantity but the quality of his numbers. From the grand harmonies of the opening number he branches off into a rollicking sailor's song, "Our Ship Was as Taut," and a moment later comes an impassioned love duet between Morelos and Jacinta. A moment later Inez, the stately and somewhat ancient chaperone, laments the decay of courtesie in an air set to the stately movements of the minuet. Then follows one of the hits of the opera, a rollicking trio, "By Way of Explanation." The duet between Miguel and Blanca, "A Soldier Scarcely Ever Feels," a dashing martial melody, called for repeated encores. From a strictly musical standpoint the trio for female voices, "We were taught to walk demurely" is one of the best things in the opera. From a stately beautifully harmonized trio reminiscent of the quiet of the cloister it breaks out into an effervesecent waltz refrain returning again at the close to the opening movement. Following this is an ambitious ballade by Jacinta, "Tell Him, O Rose, That I'll Return." The beauty of verse and music need no words of praise. It is not a catchy air. It is beyond that—a ballad of superior excellence. Before the close of the act the Alcalde and Metapec sing a burlesque duet, "Whist Sweet Idle Moon," uproariously funny, and one of the richest things in the opera.

The intermezzo preceding the second act was lost in the buzz of conversation, and the seating of the auditors who moved about during the intermission.

Morelos' tenor solo "Alas how sad my fate," is a beautiful ballad with a splendid climax of an order that is destined to attain popularity. A striking feature of the act was the "jota," danced to the fiery music of Mr. Robyn's familiar "Manzanillo." Another trio "Love's a Most Exacting Master" is even better than its counterpart in the first act and its merry jingle rings in one's memory like a rollicking gem from Sir Arthur Sullivan's operas. Mr. Robyn has surpassed himself. There is no mental reservation in pronouncing upon the success of his work.

The principals who had the honor of creating the original roles gave splendid satisfaction. Miss Laura Moore is undoubtedly at the head of American light opera singers, and she never had more ample opportunities than are afforded her in the role of Jacinta. She amply filled all requirements and, though not a great actress, gave a most pleasing interpretation to her role. Miss Cecile Eissing, in the soubrette role of Blanca, was the life of the production. Her voice is rich and possesses splendid carrying power. Personally she is probably the most attractive soubrette on the American stage to-day. Miss Adella Barker has a rather thankless part of Inez, but was fully up to all requirements. Misses Clara Allen and Olga Howe had little to do in the minor female parts but look pretty, and they did that to everyone's satisfaction.

Of the male cast Mr. R. Peyton Barker, who has had great experience having created original roles in Gilbert & Sullivan operas made a most favorable impression in the role of Metapec, a crusty censor of morals. His methods are distinctly artistic and very effective. The role of Delgado, the Alcalde, was written with a view to fit Mr. Beaumont Smith with a medium of transition from the legitimate to comic opera. Mr. Smith's physique is cast essentially in the comic opera mold. His lower limbs are excruciatingly funny; his face, too, if it had not been hidden behind a Mephistophelian make-up, would have added largely to his appearance. But Mr. Smith did not please last night, although the audience were kindly disposed toward him. He pitched his voice so high that modulation was impossible, and a quaver, joined with some affectations, made his lines indistinct. The impression he gave was of over-acting, a fault easily remedied. He has a splendid singing voice and if he would curb an inclination towards excessive staginess would make one of the best burlesque comedians on the boards. Mr. Robert Dunbar sang the tenor role of Morelos very acceptably. Mr. Gwylim Miles as Miguel, the captian of the guard, was surprisingly above the average grade of comic opera baritones. His acting does not compare favorably with that of the professional members of the cast, but his splendid vocal ability amply atones for a lack of ease that will wear off with more stage experience.

To Mr. John W. Norton, under whose personal supervision the opera was produced, and to Mr. Charles Fais, who superintended the stage setting, great credit is due for the smoothness with which the initial production went through. The chorus was large and thoroughly drilled and in concerted numbers gave effects that are never heard outside of grand opera.

THE FIRST NIGHTERS.

Some of the Well-Known People Who Attended the Original Production.

The interior of the Opera-house last evening was a beautiful sight. In honor of the occasion the building was decorated in the Mexican national colors. The railing around in the dress circle and the boxes was draped red and green bunting. Long streamers hung from the ceiling to the gallery rails and above the proscenium swung the imperial Mexican eagle. The audience made it a full-dress occasion and a brilliant assemblage filled the boxes and the parquette. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Humphrey, chaperoning a party consisting of Misses Jennette Vosburg, Belle Loader, Amy Opel, Bessie Kehlor and Messrs. Charles Humphres, William Porteus, George Vieh and Harry Graffman. In the other boxes were Mr. and Mrs. Pierce Chouteau and party, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Maffit and party, Dr. and Mrs. Mudd and party and Messrs. Gaty Pallen, Delaney, Lindsay, Kelly and McQuard.

Among others who were noticed in the audience were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Paramore, Mrs. Dr. Mulhall, Miss Finn, Miss Mabel Filly, Mrs. Andrew Warren, Miss Marie Jones, Miss Bessie Finlay, Miss July Thompson, Miss Annie Wright, Miss Pearl Pierce, Misses Louise Finlay, Nellie McCormick, Blanche Opel, Edith Mudd, Eleanor Rumsey, Marion Rumsey, Sadie Pierce, Emma Thompson, Lida Bevis, Miss Ella Dougherty, Miss Sophie Dougherty, Miss Reba Cole, Mr. F. A. Wann, Mr. Sam Pierce, W. C. McCreery, Mr. William McCreery, Mr. Gene Hanlon, Mr. William Tamblyn, Mr. William Guy, Mr. W. J. Smith, Mr. Roth, Mr. Charles Finlay, Dr. Cole, Mr. J. R. Kehlor, Dr. Bernays, and Messrs. Ed. Pierce, Al. Bevis, W. H. Pommer, Clarence Parker, B. M. Tansey, Kaiser, H. Walker, Wm. Schotten, C. Kunkel, Messrs. Dr. Wm. Campbell, Judge Laughlin, Pierre Chouteau and Miss Marie Chouteau; Messrs. Will Scudder, Charles Bates, W. H. Leftwich, W. J. Pocock, Douglas Thornburg, Charles Filley, Alonzo Church, Lucieu Jones, Frank Ridgeley, Amadee Reyburn, Richard Ennis, Wm. Miltenberger, Willis Hadley.

MANAGER NORTON IS PLEASED.

"Jacinta," He Thinks, Is Certain to Be a "Go."

Mr. John W. Norton said this morning: "Overlooking the crudities necessarily incidents upon a first performance any one can see what grand possibilities there are in 'Jacinta.' The music is certainly the best of its kind ever written by an American and the story in itself is full of opportunities. Of course, a thing never goes off well on its first production. It is given with any degree of smoothness everyone is satisfied. I think that considering the hurried preparation the smoothness of last night's production was marvelous.

"Mr. Lepere and Mr. Fais are working now to curtail the libretto and the performance will be shortened fully forty-five minutes this evening.

"By to-morrow night the opera will be moving smoothly and with snap and vigor as the nervousness of the actors will have worn off. After the production here the opera will not be put on again until it is produced in New York. By that time the book will have been rewritten, a great deal cut out and some things put in. The music to will have been revised. It will be a production of which St. Louis will certainly be proud."

Sothern at the Olympic.

Last night E. H. Sothern opened his second week's engagement in "Captain Lettarblair" at the Olympic. This play has met with much success, and while there might be more action the plot is good, and the dialogue well written. In the title role Mr. Sothern had an opportunity to do some very good work, and in the love scenes was particularly effective. His support was excellent. Virginia Hamed was a charming Fanny Hadden, and Rebecca Warner played the part of Polly Messiter excellently. In the part of Merrivale, Morton Selton made a decided hit, and C. P. Flockton was a very good Dean Ambrose. By special request "The Maister of Woodbarrow" will be given at the Saturday matinee and at the evening performance.

FOREPAUGH'S CIRCUS.

An Immense Crowd Delighted by the Great Exhibition.

A fine morning, followed by clouded skies in the afternoon and a storm at night, enabled the Adam Forepaugh shows to make a fine street parade, to present a good afternoon entertainment and to bring to a conclusion a fine entertainment at night. Fear of wind caused Manager J. T. McCaddon to suspend the concert and to hasten the departure of his guests. The quiet, systematic manner in which the crowds were handled showed that the officers of the show have their men well drilled for any emergency, which certainly will tend to insure a feeling of safety on the part of the patrons of the exhibition.

Not a voice of disapproval was heard regarding the performance. For once the time worn saying, "It is the same old circus" was supplanted by the words, "It is certainly new." Entering the menagerie one is impressed by the good condition and fine specimens of the animal world that fill the large canvas. "Baby Ruth," the little midget elephant, commands a vast amount of attention and the amount of bonbons and peanuts presented to her daily would start a good size store.

In the main auditorium the programme commences with a performance given by a group of lions, tigers, leopards, panthers, bears and boar hounds. No such exhibition of animal training has ever been seen here before. All large, full-grown animals with every savage instinct developed, the trainer keeps them under such restraint that they obey his commands readily and are not only respectful but also polite to each other. The pantomimic displays, enlivened by fine music, illustrated by fine scenic effects and clothed with correct costumes and accessories, which tell the story of "1776" is certainly a success. As Paul Revere rides to arouse the "Minute Men," the interest starts. With the battles of Concord, Bunker Hill and Monmouth, the attention of the audience grows more intense, and when it closes with the inauguration of Washington the applause shows that the sentiment of patriotism has been touched and that the audience feel the subject that appeals to their love of country.

Clowns and circus complete an hour of this portion of the show. Trained elephants, educated monkeys that ride goats, pigs and donkeys, good riders, first-class acrobats and graceful gymnasts follow each other in rapid succession. Then come the Cossacks, rough riders that are as picturesque as they are fearless. Races follow, all well contested, many comical and most of them exciting. As the show closed the audience seemed surprised to know it was storming, for beneath the great waterproof covering it was dry. The show gives two exhibitions each day this week at the old Sportsman's Park.

Carpenters Injured.

Samuel Kurtz, 39 years old, married and living at 3503 Evans avenue, and Hugh Hilthouse, 38 years old, single, and living at 1137 Monroe street, both carpenters employed by Hemminghaus & Vollmer, contractors and builders, while at work on a building at Grand avenue and Guy street, yesterday missed their footing and fell to the ground a distance of twenty feet. Kurtz' left leg was broken and he was bruised about the head and neck. Hilthouse was bruised about the body. Both were sent home.

THE SUMMER OUTING

A Week in the Cool Woods for Poor Mothers and Children.

EVERY PENNY WILL HELP TO CARRY OUT THE PLANS.

What Will You Do Towards Rescuing the Sick and Destitute From the Sufferings of the Sweltering Tenements During the Midsummer Heat?—Contribute to the Post-Dispatch Camp Fund.

The appeal which has been made the past two days to the people of St. Louis for their aid in establishing a summer camp in which to give the poor mothers and infants of St. Louis an outing, has met with encouragement and will be a success.

The POST-DISPATCH will act as the agent of the people for the people; any amount no matter how small will be received and credit given for it. Because you have only a penny or dime do not hold back. If it is all you can afford to give, give it. If it is but a penny, the smallest coin made by the Government, it will buy some suffering, feverish child a cup of pure country milk, which may mean life to some famished little body. To the mothers who have plenty and who look at baby rolled up nicely in a white bed, a doctor when the slightest ailment affects him, think of the tenement-house sufferers, think of the little ones, four and five in a room, in the hot days of July and August, a big cook stove adding its heat to that of the sun's, making the thermometer climb higher and higher until the baby, sick and without the proper nourishment, dies of exhaustion, and contrast the lot of your own darling with that of someone else. The doctor will say teething or cholera infantum or something else, but the mother knows and as the little creature is laid away she will feel in her heart that a little fresh air, not vitiated by the sour smell of the wash tub, and the uncollected garbage in the alley, would have saved her little one. She does not love it less because poverty is her only crime, and every pang that baby suffers has an echo in her heart. The strain of baby's sickness and death sometimes kills her.

No more pitiable sight on earth can be found than the City Dispensary of a hot day. Mothers with children crowd the benches, and as they move forward to see the doctor with the little ones laying on their laps weak for want of proper nourishment and worn out by sleepless nights with children, they have only one thing to ask, and that is, "Doctor, can't you do anything for baby? She is worse to-day."

The thought of self never enters their mind. It's baby. The doctor knows that it is only an outing, a change from the surroundings that the child needs, and many is the time that the answer is given, "take the child to Forest Park, Madame, medicine won't do it any good, its air the little thing needs." Often the good-hearted Dispensary physician seeing that it is a case of life and death with the child, provides the car fare for the mother.

But if the mother is able herself to raise the money once she cannot do it every day for two weeks. Every dime counts when a mother is washing or working out for a living.

The point secured for a summer outing camp is thirteen miles north of Alton, bordering on the river on the Illinois side. It has the purest of spring waters and cool as ice. A doctor will be in attendance to see that every sick child which the invigorating air does not make well shall have the proper treatment. Good plain, solid, substantial living will be given the mothers. The children will have the luxury unknown to the poorer classes, fresh milk. Plain living buildings large and roomy will take the place of the cramped tenement quarters. The little lives that are threatened will be saved and a mother's blessing will be yours. Every penny subscribed will mean the giving of a necessity to some unfortunate.

Will you join the roll of honor and send in your mite? Let it not be said that people of St. Louis allowed hundreds of children to perish for want of a few days' proper nourishment and country air.

With each contribution send name or initials or any identifying number. Every contribution will be acknowledged daily in the POST-DISPATCH.

CONTRIBUTES $25.

Mr. John B. Clements, General Manager of the Christy Fire Clay Co., sends the following:

ST. LOUIS, May 22, 1893.

Post-Dispatch, City:

I inclose you herewith my check No. 779 on Mechanics' Bank for $25, being my personal contribution to your "Summer Camp Fund," which, in view of the threatened invasion of cholera, I consider a most laudable charity. Wishing you every success, I remain,
J. B. CLEMENTS.

NO BETTER OBJECT.

Mr. A. T. Harlow of the Spencer, Harlow Commission Co., sends the following with his check for $10.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

DEAR SIR—I note with much pleasure the proposition in your issue of Sunday to establish a "Summer Camp" in the beautiful Valley of the Piasa, where poor mothers and their little ones may be provided with a summer's outing. I consider this one of the most noble of the many charitable enterprises undertaken and carried through by the POST-DISPATCH. I cannot afford to do without a little stock in this grand charity and enclose you herewith my check for $10. God speed your noble effort. I can conceive of no better use to which a little money could be employed, and I hope the charitable people of our city will lose no time in supplying all the funds needed. Yours truly,
A. T. HARLOW.

HE IS NOT OFFENDED.

Rabbi Harrison Discusses the Methodist Ministers' Action.

Rev. Dr. Leon Harrison, rabbi of Temple Israel, Twenty-eighth and Pine streets, is not disturbed over the action of the Methodist ministers, who yesterday refused to adopt the report of their Executive Committee recommending that he be invited to read a paper on the Talmud before a meeting of the ministers the third Monday in June. As related in yesterday's POST-DISPATCH there was an animated discussion at the ministers' meeting over this matter, and the objections of some of the preachers to having Dr. Harrison address them were so strenuous and their remarks so pointed that the committee withdrew its suggestion. Dr. Harrison when seen to-day at his residence told a reporter of the POST-DISPATCH that he did not care to discuss the action of the Methodists until he had been officially informed of what it was. "I saw the article in the POST-DISPATCH," he said, "but there may be some other facts which might change any view I might arrive at now. I don't think, though, that the course of the ministers, if it has been correctly reported, would indicate denominational or creed prejudice. It is very true, as one of the gentlemen said, that they could not well invite me to express my opinions at their meeting and then criticise them if they did not agree with their own; nor could they apparently sanction them by their silence. It is entirely within the province of any meeting of ministers to decline to place itself in such a position. I really knew nothing of the affair until I heard that my name was in the papers or, as it were, woke up and found myself famous. I presume there was no discourtesy intended."

Died Drunk in an Out-House.

Mary Barry, 60 years old, was found dead this morning in an out-house in the rear of 1400 North Eighteenth street. She was seen in an intoxicated condition last night, and it is supposed that she wandered into the shed and went to sleep. Her death was probably caused by alcoholism. She leaves two children, but their present whereabouts are not known. The remains have been removed to the Morgue.

TOPEKA, Kan., May 23.—Superintendent of Insurance Snider, following out the opinion of the Attorney General last week to-day promulgated an order that all insurance companies doing business in Kansas must, within sixty days, establish State agencies in the State or go out of business.

BROKE UP A PICNIC.

The Offenders Fined in Judge Paxson's Court This Morning.

Harry Clancey and John Kelly were fined $15 and $10 respectively by Judge Paxson this morning for attempting to break up a picnic given by the Pickett School at Lindell Park yesterday afternoon. Robert Assin testified that the men, in a drunken condition, tore down a portion of the fence surrounding the park and, having gained entrance, commenced to stone the women and children attending the picnic. He remonstrated with them and attempted to eject them and a fight ensued in which he was struck and badly hurt with a stone. The men were finally put to flight by the superintendent of the park and his assistants. Outside of the park, however, the men again showered stones upon the picnickers, hitting and injuring a woman and several children.

The charge of disturbing the peace against Joseph Eichols in the Second District Police Court was nolle prosequied this morning, Gustave Knoll the prosecuting witness, having taken the case to the Court of Criminal Correction alleging assault and battery. About ten days ago Knoll was badly beaten with a hammer in a neighbor's house in which they chanced to meet. The men renewed an old dispute with the above result.

A Lady Makes a Charitable Suggestion to the Patrons of the Burned Barn.

The following charitable suggestion was received from the wife of one of the patrons of Crum's livery barn, which was destroyed by fire Sunday evening:

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Knowing your readiness at all times to appeal to the public through your columns in behalf of the unfortunate, I write to ask you to say a word in behalf of James Quinn, familiarly known to all patrons of the stable as "Jim," who at the great fire of Sunday night at Crum's stable lost a son, home, clothing and everything and was left destitute with a wife and four little children. The case calls for the greatest sympathy. I ask you not to appeal to the public generally but only to the patrons of Crum's stable, to all of whom Jim was known and whom he served most faithfully. Will not the POST-DISPATCH suggest through its paper this evening that each patron will forward it $5 (within the ability of all to give) to raise a little fund which will enable Jim and his little family to get a start in the world once more and assure him of the sympathy of those whose interests were always his? Trusting that I do not appeal to you in vain, I am with many thanks,
A PATRON OF CRUM'S STABLE.

In compliance with the wish expressed in the above appeal to the patrons of the barn the POST-DISPATCH will receive subscriptions for the benefit of the unfortunate foreman and acknowledge contributions in these columns daily for those who were so often accommodated by this obliging employe.

A Young Man's Suicide—Burglary in Belleville.

A young man supposed to be John Reuther of Belleville committed suicide last night by shooting himself through the head with a revolver. His body and the weapon were found near the glass works by employes of the plant. Letters found in the pockets of the clothing of the suicide were addressed to John Reuther, 304 Mascoutah avenue, Belleville.

The wounded colored man who was arrested at Madison Sunday night on suspicion, has left that place. A rumor to the effect that he was supposed to be one of the assailants of Benjamin McCulloch, the bank teller of St. Louis, who was killed last week attained currency and credence here yesterday. Investigation showed, however, that the colored man could not have been wounded in that affray. His wound was the work of a pistol ball, according to the statements of a physician of Madison, who made a critical examination of it yesterday, and was not less than two weeks old. The Madison officers released the prisoner this morning and he left the place immediately.

An attempt was made last night to enter the dwelling of James Houser, 1120 North Ninth street, by several colored men who, it is thought, were bent on robbery. Mr. Houser discovered the prowlers on his premises and drove them away, but was unable to obtain good descriptions of them on account of the darkness.

Local Women's Relief Corps, No. 82, gave a steamboat excursion last night. There was an enormous crowd on the boat and the excursion would have been a pleasant affair but for the rain, which soaked the clothing of the excursionists.

Two hours were devoted to papers and various topics, after which a reception and social was held. The convention will close to-night. A very interesting programme for the evening session has been announced.

The receivers of the Valley Steel Co. have announced that they will pay the wages due employes next Saturday. It is not yet known when the plant will resume operations. A. J. Vandergrift filed a mechanic's lien against the company yesterday for $1,500 for machinery.

Cumberland Presbyterians.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 23.—The Cumberland Presbyterian Assembly selected Eugene City, Ore., this morning as the next place of meeting. It was a contest between Oregon City, Moberly, Mo., Bowling Green, Ky. and Chicago. Eugene City was selected on the second ballot, defeating Moberly, Mo., 100 votes.

One of the principal acts of the assembly was to sustain Rev. E. T. Bowers of Kansas City, against whom serious charges have been pending the past two years. In 1891 Dr. Bowers was suspended from the ministry by the Presbytery and last year was reinstated. The minority, voting to sustain the charges, appealed to the General Assembly and upon this appeal the matter was decided this morning.

TOO MANY HORSES.

McCafferty's String Is too Large to Handle Properly.

THE GEORGIAN THINKS OF WEEDING OUT HIS STABLE.

Why Big Stables Are not Always Profitable—Track and Stable Goss'p—What They Think of the Browns in Cincinnati—Cycling Chat—Sporting News of All Sorts.

McCafferty & Wishard have, without a doubt, the largest string of thoroughbreds in training in the United States this season. The stable, consisting of between forty and fifty head, all told, occupies the extensive machinery hall at the Fair Grounds, besides an addition built on the north side of the building, where the assistant trainers, stable hands, exercise boys and the numerous employes of the stable are housed. The string is managed and trained by a quartette consisting of Johnny McCafferty, his brother, A. C., who was with him last year, Partner Ed Wishard, who trained the stable last season, and Galen Brown, a son of the famous Jim Brown, who was killed in the memorable Garfield Park riot last summer. It is hardly necessary to say much about Johnny McCafferty. Every St. Louis turfite recollects the remarkable success he had at the Fair Grounds last spring and summer, and the sensation he created after the Fair Grounds meeting closed, at Monmouth Park, Coney Island, Brooklyn and Westchester, by his sucess in winning races against the best of the regular Eastern performers, with his despised Western selling platers. His "killing" with Queenie at Monmuth Park will hardly ever be forgotten by the bookmakers who were on the block at Monmouth Park that day. The filly's opening price was 100 to 1 and McCafferty's commissioners nibbled at it in such a manner that no suspicion was aroused and the price went down slowly. McCafferty's representatives had placed about $2,000 on at this juicy price, and the field had started for the post before the bookmakers discovered that the entire ring would be "burnt" up if the wily Westerner's filly was successful. The chalkers, however, consoled themselves when they recovered from the shock of a momentary inspection of their sheets, which showed what a roll would be separated from them if the Western plater won, and realized that to do so she would have to defeat Nomad, Yemen and Onward. Allunde's chestnut daughter, however, was equal to the task and with McCafferty up was successful by two lengths from Nomad. This was one of the biggest "killings" ever made, undoubtedly, upon an American race track. The filly died last winter at McCafferty's winter quarters in Georgia.

While McCafferty had quite a large sized stable last year, it does not begin to compare with the string sporting his colors this season. It must be confessed, however, that the earnings of the horses, notwithstanding the fact that there are twice as many in the string, hardly equal the amount the stable had to its credit at this time last year. Not a stake has been captured this year yet, although it is generally credited with several "killings."

The 2-year old division has made a poor showing, although only two, Jennie Lee and Jack Joyner have been out so far. The best of the 3-year-olds is of course the famous Helen Nichols. She has not been out yet, but will start once or twice, before the meeting is brought to a close. Her owner is preparing her for the $20,000 Queen Isabella stakes at Washington Park. Hugh Penny and Gov. Fifer, a pair of seasoning 3-year-olds, are both laid up at present and neither will hardly go to the post for some time. Little Billie, last year's Arkansas derby winner, has not been out yet, while Bo Peep and Tom Harding started with Hugh Penny in the Real Estate stakes last Thursday and ran unplaced. Tom Harding won a good race a week or two ago from a fast field. Aloha, Nero, Burch and the rest of the aged handicap performers have not been out yet.

McCafferty, it is said, has come to the conclusion that he has too many horses to handle as they ought to be, and he said recently that he would make an effort to get rid of his selling-platers. He will also weed out the 2-year-olds that do not realize expectations. The stable has had much trouble with sickness among the horses the entire spring, and McCafferty is convinced that some 2-year-olds he purchased last summer have been the cause of it. The youngsters were in a delicate condition when first secured and it took some time for them to recover. During the winter the rest of the stable commenced to show signs of the same trouble. A week or two of real warm weather will boil the fever out of both McCafferty and his horses and then it will pay to keep a close watch on the green and white shoulder straps.

AT THE FAIR GROUNDS.

The feature of the day at the Fair Grounds yesterday was the consistent performance of Kittleman's son of King William, St. Joe. The big chestnut's feat Saturday convinced the regulars, that it would take a Hindoo to bowl him over yesterday and they plunged on him in the most consistent manner. With Jordan up he justified the confidence of the public by winning, with two lengths to spare, from Leihy & Son's Balgowan. Fred Foster's Sullross third. A Monday crowd, that fully equaled expectations, was present and enjoyed some ordinary sport on a fast track. Aeronaut, with Jordan up, at 5 to 2, won the opening event by four lengths from Eloray. Maud at 4 to 5 ran unplaced. John Cooper at 6 to 1 and 5 to 2, captured the second event by three lengths, from Fatality, the favorite, at 8 to 5. Mark S, at 4 and 3 to 1 was successful, in the third race, by two lengths, from Royal Flush, the first choice. Excelsior at 4 and 5 to 1, won the fifth affair by a length, from the choice Lena Frey. Sir Walter Raliegh, at 8 to 1 and 5 to 2, ridden out, got the coin in the closing event.

AT EAST ST. LOUIS.

Several exciting finishes took place at the course across the river yesterday. A trio of picsk were successful. The winners were Billy Roller at 3 to 1, Fred Wooley at 2 to 1, Promise at 5 to 1, Ulf at 4 to 5 and Boro at 3 to 1.

TRACK TALK.

Morning book and combinations on St. Louis races. Monarch Billiard Hall, Merchants' Exchange building, from 8 a. m. to 2:30 p. m.

St. Joe is the most consistent "dickey"-leg performer in the United States to-day. His performance Saturday and yesterday on the hard and fast Fair Grounds track astonished the knowing trainers.

The owners of Wildwood and Sir Walter, the California cracks, are talking about matching their horses at something like weights for age. The Wildwood people want a race at one and one-sixteenth miles and the Sir Walter people at one and one-fourth miles.

Starter Bill Bruen gave most excellent satisfaction with the flag yesterday. His success more than realized expectations and if he can only continue in the form he displayed yesterday the racing stewards, bookmakers, horse owners and the general public, now patronizing the Fair Grounds, will have cause to congratulate themselves.

Jerry Gough sprung another promising youngster on the unsuspecting public in John Cooper, the winner of the 2-year-old event yesterday. The public and bookmakers picked W. O'Brien McDonough's speedy Fatality to win and made her an odds on favorite, while Jerry and his friends backed John Cooper from 6 to 1 down to 5 to 2, and separated almost every "chalker" in the ring quite extensively.

BASE BALL.

The Browns, and particularly young Arthur Clarkson, who was in the box, were smothered by Buckenberger's smoked Italian Pittsburg pirates yesterday. The pirates sized up Clarkson's delivery in the inaugural inning, and pounded out five runs. This knocked the ginger out of the Browns, and they put up a listless game the rest of the afternoon. Loony, a new man, handled the sphere for Pittsburg and made a good showing. The errors of Shugart and Bierbauer were mainly responsible for the runs scored by the Browns. The summary follows: Pittsburg 14, St. Louis 5. Batteries—Pittsburg Loony and Mack; St. Louis, Clarkson and Pietz. Base hits—Pittsburg 10, St. Louis 6. Errors—Pittsburg 4; St. Louis 4.

GOV. STONE IS PUZZLED.

He Has Not Yet Decided on the St. Louis Appointments—Against Hoblitzelle.

This was another day of expectancy with the local Democrats who are looking for Gov. Stone's St. Louis appointments. Since last week something in the nature of a protest has quietly gone out against C. L. Hoblitzelle, who is mentioned for Excise Commissioner. The end of the party in which Hoblitzelle's greatest strength lies is very close to Collector Ziegenhein and his closest business friends. This a fact which has been made plain to the Governor. Some Independent party men having no favorite for the place object on grounds of policy to Hoblitzelle, as being the chosen candidate of the brewery interest.

Carondelet Jottings.

The projectors of the proposed electric railroad to be built in the southwestern suburbs claim that the farmers and gardeners want the line and that in addition to the thirty-foot right of way which many of them have already agreed to give they will raise a bonus. A meeting will be held by the gardeners at Schneyburg's Hall on the Gravois road at Gardenville Sunday afternoon for the purpose of discussing a plan for having the proposed Loughborough avenue branch of the Broadway electric extended beyond King's highway, its proposed terminus, out into the rich gardening country to the southwest. The roads are to run fruit and vegetable cars, enabling gardeners and farmers to market their goods with little inconvenience.

Adam Laurie and his wife are locked up in the First District Police Station charged with holding up and robbing Mary Delaber of 510 Hurck street. The Lauries live at 8321 Virginia avenue and are given a very good name by the police. It is alleged that Mary Delaber's charge was made in malice.

A. J. Pfeffer, a prominent Carondelet business man residing at 7601 Ivory avenue and Miss Katie Muehler of 832 Poepping street were married last night. The ceremony was celebrated at the home of the bride, and the young couple received many costly presents.

WORLD'S FAIR WINES.

"A consignment of six butts of choice types of Spanish Sherry Wines were received by Peter Nicholson & Sons, Nos. 208, 210 and 212 North Broadway, yesterday. The wines are from Wisdom & Warter of Jerez, Spain, and were to have been exhibited at the World's Fair by permission of Messers. Nicholson, who purchased the wines several months ago. Owing to the space engaged by Wisdom & Warter for the exhibit being fully occupied when the wine arrived it was found there was not sufficient room left in which to make a proper exhibit. The Messers. Nicholson were notified of this fact and were offered special space for the wines but concluded not to accept the offer. Instead, they had the wine shipped to St. Louis. The names of the different brands are: Natural Brut, Oloroso, Montilio, Nutty, Amontillado and Queen's Royal. The wines are the finest of their various types produced, and are put up in neat butts on the outside of which is marked, in handsome gold letters 'World's Columbian Exposition, 1893.'" The above wines are for sale by PETER NICHOLSON & SONS, Importers, Grocers and Wine Merchants, 208-210-212 North Broadway. Forty-one consecutive years in active business in St. Louis. Telephone 492.

THE FAIR PROBLEM

Shall the Gates Be Open or Closed on Sunday?

NATIONAL COMMISSIONERS DEBATING THE QUESTION TO-DAY.

A Flood of Oratory Let Loose For and Against the Proposition—Cold Weather Decreases the Attendance of Visitors to Jackson Park—Mrs. Hart's Irish Village Completed.

WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS, CHICAGO, Ill., May 23.—After yesterday's season of warm weather, wind, and a taste of sandstorms, the few spectators that came to the grounds early to-day were treated to a decided change. It was too much of a change, however, to be a relief, as the temperature had fallen about 40 degrees and a drizzling rain made life miserable. The grounds were almost deserted during the morning hours and the visitors, cloaked in winter wraps, took refuge in the buildings and managed to find plenty of attractions to take the mind off the disagreeable weather. As the day wore on the weather man relented and allowed a little warmth to permeate the atmosphere of the beclouded park with the effect of bringing a few more people to the grounds, but altogether the attendance was nearly as light as the poorest day since May 1.

The National Commissioners arrived on the grounds early. Their session was ordered to begin at 10 o'clock, but it was nearly a half hour past that time before business was taken up. The commission was anxious to settle the Sunday opening question and adjourn until July 1. Some of the members have been here continually for about six weeks and have been expecting to get away every day for the past four weeks.

The two reports on the Sunday opening question were carefully read in the morning papers by the commissioners, as the minutes of yesterday's session had not been printed, and each man, it is safe to say, had decided which way to cast his vote before he entered commission hall this morning. However, this did not deter the commissioners from speech making, and there was a flood of oratory all morning led by Massey of Delaware, St. Clair of West Virginia, Burton of Kansas and Hundley of Alabama.

Minnesota State Day has been finally decided upon. Thursday, June 1, has been adopted in place of the former date, June 5. The time for holding the affair was left to suit the convenience of the Governor of the State, who decided upon June 1. On that day he will be present with his staff and also the officers of the commission and many Minnesota people.

The members of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association have been invited to attend a reception this afternoon in high life. The reception will be held on the roof promenade of the Manufactures and Liberal Arts Building and an elevator company whose "lifts" run to the roof will be the host. It is thought if the editors accept the invitation none of them will have a hankering for a repetition of the trip. The elevators run over 800 feet into the air from near the center of the big building and the promenade extends around the crown of the roof of the structure making the distance around it nearly three-quarters of a mile.

Work was again stopped to-day on the Ferris wheel because of the inclement weather. If the elements continue to conspire against this novel and gigantic structure the Fair will be half over before the wheel can be made ready to give the people a circular ride in the air and the financial outlook for those interested is not bright. Two weeks of good weather, however, will see the wheel finished, as there are but two or three segments of the wheel yet to be placed. The removing of the superstructure will occupy but a few days and the wheel will then be ready for work.

The doors of the suspended Chemical National Bank, "World's Columbian Exposition Branch," are still locked and nothing is being done inside, the clerks having completed their work, and the directors of the bank are waiting patiently for the report of the Bank Examiner as to the impairment of the bank's capital and the financial requirements which must be met before the institution will be allowed to open its doors again. The stockholders are unanimously in favor of continuing both in the city and at the Exposition. In the meantime the exhibitors, concessionaires and others who need banking facilities within the grounds are put to considerable inconvenience by the absence of an Exposition bank.

Telegrams continue to pour in to the National Commission regarding Sunday opening and when Commissioner De Young called the National body to order about 10:30 this morning a good sized stack of these communications adorned the President's desk. They were from all parts of the country and were of the same import: "Keep the gates of the World's Fair closed on Sunday."

After a half hour's discussion it was agreed that the debate on the adoption of one of the reports from the Judiciary Committee on the Sunday closing should be confined to three and one-half hours. The commission then settled itself to hear the Sunday closing matter rehearsed and threshed out in all of its branches, Mr. Elboeck of Iowa beginning the debate by speaking in favor of the adoption of the minority report, which favors Sunday opening.

The completion of Mrs. Hart's Irish village in the Midway Plaisance was celebrated this afternoon with a reception and entertainment by the people composing the village. Many prominent Irish-Americans and guests of other nationalities were present. Addresses of welcome were delivered by Archbishop Feehan and ex-Congressman John F. Finerty of Chicago as well as Mrs. Hart. A reproduction of Donegal Castle forms the front of the village and visitors enter under the archway. Cottages where various industries peculiar to Erin are to be seen, flank the village and make up a typical Irish scene. Irish pipers, horseshoers, homespun workers, wood carvers, lace makers and others gave exhibitions of their skill.

There was no free music at the fair to-day until late in the afternoon, when one of the bandsmen managed to get an order from the Music Bureau and gave a short concert in one of the stands. The bad weather interfered with the open air arrangements and as the music bureau failed to issue an order the public was without the advertised free music. About a dozen people heard the concert by the Kneisel Quartette of Boston in the recital room in the Music Hall at 11 o'clock. The programme was a difficult one, and notwithstanding the meager attendance was conscientiously rendered.

ON 'CHANGE.

Grain.

Wheat—A demand that rather exceeded offerings opened the market ⅛c higher, but the selling at once became brisk, prices weakened and then went down lickity-split until ⅞c lower. During this break there was an overpowering rush to sell, largely to for long account, and not much of a demand until July struck 70⅛c and from that down to 70c the buying was heavy. The reaction from this was only ⅜c and the feeling was nervous and unsettled until late, then showing more confidence. At close there were buyers at ¼c below yesterday. On the Kansas weekly crop bulletin published this morning, which was almost a calamity statement, cold weather in the West—a killing frost at Dodge City, Kan.—and heavy rains in the Northwest, a temporarily bullish sentiment was worked up that gave the market its higher opening. But the increase of 2,176,000 bu in amount on passage, where it decreased nearly that much one year ago, dull and weak cables, clearing weather in this vicinity, and breaking markets in every direction soon turned the feeling bearish and prices down. The longs liquidating did the rest and the result was 70c for July. Northwestern receipts were surprisingly heavy and also large at Chicago and the seaboard, and the clearances for five ports not large enough—35,500 pkgs flour and 277,000 bu wheat.

Except an advance of ⅛@¼c in Berlin the latest cables were not at all favorable, London being reported dull and unchanged, Liverpool off ¼d, Antwerp about ⅛c lower and Paris 1¼@2c lower. Domestic markets did not rally much, but late the feeling was better locally, the buying more confident, though prices did not improve much.

FUTURES—July opened at 70⅞c and sold to 70c to 70¼@⅜c to 70c to 70⅜c to 70¼@⅜c closing at 70¼@⅜c sellers. Aug sold at 71⅝c but 72c bid at the close. Sept sold at 74c to 73⅝c, closing at 73⅞c bid. June offered on the noon call at 68⅛c, with 67⅞c bid, but at the close it was worth about 68⅛c. May offered on call at 67⅝c, bid 67⅜c.

SPOT GRADES—Lower. Outside the loading of 50,000 bu No 2 hard winter into the barges for export, there was actually nothing doing in cash wheat. The decline in futures stood off milling buyers and holders would not accept the prices bid by carriers. No 2 red was offered regular at 67½c, bid 67⅜c; No 3 red at 64⅞c, bid 63⅞c and for A and U, 64⅜c; No 2 spring at 65c, bid 62c and for E side 62½c bid.

Sales: No 2 red—3,000 bu this side late yesterday at 68c. No 2 hard winter—50,000 bu this side p t.

SAMPLES—Received, 1,719 sks, 21 cars local. The market was ½@1c lower and rather slow at that, though the rather light offerings were all sold, as follows: Red winter—100 sks very smutty at 55c, 27 sks at 63c, 85 at 64c, 194 No 3 at 65c, 76 at 66c, 114 at 67c, 485 prime at 67½c, 48 choice at 68c, 66 fancy at 68½c. East track—3 cars No 3 at 66c, 1 car No 2 at 68½c. This side track—1 car No. 3 at 66c, 1 car ungraded at 68c. Spring—1 car No 3 in Union elevator at 57c.

Corn—The weather west and north and the stronger opening in wheat started corn in firm, but not over ⅛c advance was made and the firmness very short-lived. Then came a rapid run down in value on the predicted clearing weather, the good receipts, 643,000 bu increase in the amount afloat and dull cables, July going below 38c. The decline from the opening was ⅝c, but at once rallied ¼@⅜c and the subsequent market dull and unsettled, closing ⅛c below yesterday.

FUTURES—July opened at 38⅝@¾c, sold at 38⅝c down to 37⅞@38c to 38⅛@¼c to 38c to 38⅛@¼c, and that bid at close. May sold at 37c, and 37½c bid at close. June sold at 37⅛c and at close nominal at 37⅛c. Sept had 39⅛c bid early, but afterwards offered at 39¼c, with 39c bid. No 2 white—May 39c bid; June offered at 39½c, bid 39⅛c; July at 40⅛c, bid 40⅛c.

SPOT GRADES—White corn scarce and strong in consequence. No 3 white was not offered at all, and No 2 white sold at 39c regular (39¾c bid for more) and 39⅞c E side, which was somewhat better than yesterday. No 2 mixed was awfully dull, even ⅛c decline failing to bring in much of a demand. Exporters say there are good profits in corn at present prices, but the season is too late to take chances on the corn keeping in condition while on ocean passage. A few cars No 2 sold on call at 38c E side, 37¼c this side, but later regular sold at 36⅞@37c. No 3 this side sold at 36¼@36½c and for E side 36¼c bid.

Late 37¼c was bid for cash No 2 and no sellers at that.

Sales: No 2—1 car East side at 38c, 1 in M at 37¼c, 5 regular at 37c, 5 do at 36⅞c, 10,000 bu do p t. No 2 white—1 car East side at 39¾c, 2 in M and 1 regular at 39c. No 3—1 car in M at 36½c, 2 in D at 36¼c.

SAMPLES—Millers after white, which was scarce and firm. Sales: 245 sks choice white at 42c, 1 car white track this side p t. Skd lots on orders 46@47c.

Oats—The future market was right firm by contrast with wheat and corn, not having many sellers. May sold at 32⅛c to 32½c and July at 27¾c. Aug had 26c bid and Sept offered at 27c.

SPOT GRADES—No 2 offered in F at 33c, bid 31½c for regular, 32c for F, M and E side. No 3 not offered and 29c bid for E, A and U.

Samples—Received, 43 cars. Prices were no lower, but the market was dull and trading light. Local dealers were only buying in a small way and shippers, while taking a few cars mixed, did not want any large amounts.

Sales: Special bin—2 cars No 3 white at 33c, 2 do at 32¾c, 1 No 3 color and 2 No 2 at 32¼c, 3 No 2 at 32c, 6 No 3 at 29¼c, 1 poor do at 29c. Track this side—1 car No 2 white at 34½c, 1 No 2 color at 33½c. Sacks—700 sacks white on p t. Sacked lots on orders 37@38c.

Rye—None offering, though 60c was bid on call for regular No. 2.

Poultry and Game.

Live Poultry—The feeling was somewhat easier on old chickens, but offerings were not large. Good-sized spring chickens are wanted, but most of the stock coming in is too small and difficult to sell. Good spring ducks are wanted, but the receipts as yet have been very light and the stock generally poor. Old turkeys, ducks and geese out of season and without demand. The few coming have to be sold for whatever they will bring.

Butter and Cheese.

Butter—As had been anticipated, the market is gradually settling down and prices are now at a point where a much better trade is confidently looked for. Fancy Elgin creamery is now selling at 22@23c and a retail price of 25c will no doubt make it sell more freely. Supplies are quite liberal of all grades.

Crops and Weather.

Saline County, one of the best wheat counties in this State, will not raise over a half crop this year, a letter from Miami says.

Omaha wires that general rains all over the State have benefited the crops greatly, especially in Western Nebraska.

A Paris letter, dated May 12, from a member of the trade reads: In the central part of France wheat does not look strong, but in the north the crop does not look poor. If seems as if the drought had not yet damaged the crops, and if we could get serious rains I think the wheat might soon be expected to be good.

Low temperatures occurred in Kansas last night, viz.: Dodge City, 32; Concordia, 38; Wichita, 40. Killing frost is reported from Dodge City. Moderately heavy rains occurred last night in the Central Mississippi Valley and on Lake Michigan. It is much colder throughout the central valleys west of Indiana and decidedly warmer in the East. Forecast: Fair, except clearing in Southern Illinois today; warmer Wednesday.

The weekly crop bulletin issued last evening by the Government Weather Bureau in connection with the State Board of Agriculture makes a very discouraging report for wheat. As indicated by the report, the crop in more than half of the State will be a total failure. The continued dry weather in Western Kansas has made it necessary for farmers to plow up the wheat and plant corn, millet or broom corn. Good rains fell last week in Southeastern Kansas, but in that region, where the wheat is the best and promises a half crop, chinch-bugs are thick and farmers are applying to Prof. Snow for diseased bugs. The report says corn is doing fairly well, but in the West is in need of rain. The fruit crop will be light.

In this morning's Beerbohm cable it was stated that the French official crop estimate was below an average.

Southern Illinois is sending in reports of wheat developing into "cheat." One party writes from Baldwin that whole fields in that section promise to turn out more "cheat" than actual wheat, and some farmers say they do not expect to get better than seed from their crops.

Commercial Notes.

Liverpool receipts past three days were 170,000 bu wheat, 50,000 bu from America and 17,700 bu corn.

It is more than probable the Chicago and New York exchanges will adjourn from next Saturday 's close to the following Wednesday, as Tuesday is Decoration Day, and a legal holiday.

India shipped last week 700,000 bu of wheat, against 500,000 the week before and 1,120,000 for corresponding week last year. Since April 1 that country has shipped 3,420,000 bu, against 7,260,000 bu for same period last year.

NEW YORK, May 23, 11 a. m.—The stock market was unusually quiet during the first hour and until after 10:30 a. m the tendency of prices was downward. The decline was equal to ¼@⅜ per cent as compared with yesterday's closing. Subsequently the losses were partially recovered and at 11 a m the market was dull and steady in tone.

Noon—Money on call easy, 3@3½. Mercantile paper, 6@8 per cent. Sterling exchange firm, bankers' bills, 485@½ for sixty days, and 489@½ for demand. Posted rates, 486@490. Commercial bills, 483½@484.

While the stock market had remained dull, higher prices prevailed. Louisville, New Albany & Chicago rose 1½ to 19; Distillers, 1¼ to 17, and Richmond Terminal, ⅜ to 7½. The improvement in the last named was due to statements that the Drexel, Morgan & Co. plan of reorganization would be given out after 3 o'clock. A member of the firm states that if all the security holders accept the terms their equities and rights would be preserved in every direction. The market was quiet and firm.

What the Deputy Surveyor of Nevada and others say about

"ACTINA."

CARSON CITY, NEV., Feb. 14, 1893.

GENTS—Inclosed find express money order for $10, for which send me an Actina. I presume the one I have will soon need recharging, as it has been in constant use for over four months. It still holds out, however, and I desire this one also for my own use, not content to be without one, for this little instrument has proved to us more than all the physic, doctors, oculists, etc., to be of the greatest value. Yours very truly, W. T. HANFORD, Deputy Surveyor State of Nevada.

ST. LOUIS, MO., Nov. 26, 1892.

Dr. Wilson: DEAR SIR—I have used your Actina for two months and find it a valuable remedy for Catarrh. I would not be without it for any amount of money. M. O. JOHNSON, 218 N. 4th st.

ST. LOUIS, MO., Nov. 26, 1892.

Dr. Wilson: DEAR SIR—Your Actina, which I purchased on Mr. Shroeder's recommendation, proved a great relief, and although only used for a short time, believe it to be a thorough remedy for Catarrh or Cold. Yours, respectfully, R. H. NICHOL, 206 Merchants' Exchange.

The above are but specimens of letters received by us every day. If you suffer with Catarrh or any form of Eye, Ear, Throat or Head Trouble you have yourself to blame, for Actina will cure you.

THE BREWERS' PROBLEM.

It Will Be Settled by a Meeting To-Night at the Wainwright Building.

The solution of the brewery labor problem will in all likelihood be reached this evening. Mr. McGuire left town last night, after making a call on Mr. Busch, leaving Mr. Devlin to finish up the affair. Mr. Busch stated that he was willing to pay any amount of money the union thought proper but did not propose to be placed in the position of being unable to compete with the other brewers who will not pay the scale asked by the union. A meeting of the brewery bosses and the men will be held this evening in the Wainwright building and a settlement of the question arrived at. This is the last meeting, and unless something definite is done a boycott or a strike will probably follow.

A False Alarm.

An unknown colored man pulled the hook of fire alarm box No. 41 at the northwest corner of Fourth and Pine streets this morning at 8:30 o'clock, and, in less than a minute the machines were flying from every direction. No flames were visible and a couple of police spent some time in a fruitless effort to find out who played the trick.

Hood's Cures

Even When Totally Helpless

A Great Sufferer from Rheumatism.

Unable to Move Hands or Feet.

Mr. C. M. Hyer
Hoboken, N. J.

"I am a boilermaker with W. & A. Fletcher Co. N. River Iron Works, this city, and at my business I contracted rheumatism so that I became a very great sufferer, and was really an invalid; helpless, could not move hands or feet, was unable to dress or undress myself. I had to have help to turn myself in bed. I did not work for four months, and was in a hospital for a long time. I spent a great deal of money without benefit. I asked the doctors if they could cure me, and they

Said They Could Not

One day a friend advised me to take a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. When I had taken one bottle, I could get up, stand on my feet and walk through the rooms. I continued to

GOV. HOGG'S PLAIN TALK.

Why He Vetoed the Sugar Bounty Bill Passed by the Legislature.

AUSTIN, Tex., May 23.—Gov. Hogg yesterday vetoed the sugar bounty bill passed by the Legislature, which contemplated drawing from the Government 2 cents a pound for all the sugar manufactured at the penal sugar farms of the State. The penitentiary output of sugar in Texas is about 1,000,000 pounds per annum.

Gov. Hogg in his veto message, which is quite lengthy, says:

"In the first place, I believe that Congress was guilty of a usurpation of power in passing the bounty act, and that to accept money from such a source the State Government would be an accessory to the crime.

"In the second place, I believe the State would debase her dignity, prostitute her honor, and appear before civilization as a humiliated suckling holding on to the breast of the Federal Government if she accepts the bounty.

"Such laws are fundamentally wrong, subversive of the powers of Government, undemocratic, paternalistic in the extreme, and no State can be a party to, connive at or ratify them without a surrender of its self-respect."

After discussing the matter further and explaining how the State would lose its supervision of its own work and products and throw it into the hands of the Federal Inspector, he concludes as follows:

"Other potent reasons should move the State to refuse this bounty. She is no pauper nor mendicant. She is a sovereign State in full control of her own institutions, capable repulsing with indignation every subtle effort made to destroy her autonomy. When she needs money she will resort to constitutional means and call on Texans to pay it. She would not appeal to Massachusetts, Georgia or other States to help her; nor will she accept money paid for public purposes by her sisters to the Federal Government, simply because the Congress is willing, in the exercise of arbitrary power, in defiance of the Constitution, to let her have it. For the sake of the masses, now taxed beyond endurance through the vicious, insidious tariff system; for the respect due to her own people; for the preservation of her own independence; for the perpetuity of sound principles of government, the State of Texas now, and so long as I am Governor, shall treat this sugar bounty with derisive contempt. She will not handicap her Senators and Congressmen in the performance of their duties to have the law repealed; she will not stultify her statehood; she will not violate Democratic pledges to strike down such measures; she will not stain her hands nor dishonor her name by the acceptance of this money—the polluted fruit of crime against justice and the Constitution."

New Grocery at Nebraska and St. Vincent Avenues.

Joseph Stippich, for nine years proprietor of the grocery store at Jefferson avenue and Randolph street, has established a branch store at Nebraska and St. Vincent avenues, and the same is being stocked with a full line of the best goods, to be sold at the lowest market prices. Mr Stippich has steadily progressed in his business owing to his general tact, and especially his consideration for the best interests of his patrons. Table luxuries as well as the ordinary lines of goods will be kept at the new store and free delivery will be made to any part of the city.

The Old Green Goods Game.

Another "green goods" circular is being extensively circulated about the city. This time it comes from one Andrew Kip, who requests his prospective customers to address him care of the Western Union Telegraph Co., No. 704 Hamilton street, Allentown, Pa. It is the same old stereotyped form, with the misleading bogus newspaper clipping inclosed and offers to furnish the customer with $4,000 of "genuine goods" for $350 cash. Full and explicit instructions are given how to reach Mr. Kip and hand over any superfluous cash the "sucker" may have, for which he will receive a box of sawdust and pieces of broken bricks.

The Grand Avenue Track Dispute.

The Street Committee of the Board of Public Improvements met yesterday afternoon, but did not tackle the Grand Avenue Railway problem. The Grand avenue road has sent in the name of Isaac N. Judson as its attorney to act as special commissioner, and the People's Railway Co. has notified Mayor Walbridge that Gen. John W. Turner will fill the same position for that company. Mr. Charles Green has urged the Mayor not to appoint any third commissioner, as it is not his duty to interfere. The Mayor will probably appoint one, however, to-day or to-morrow.

Sid Francis Wins $1,000.

One tick of the fraction hand on the Exchange wheat dial this forenoon was worth $1,000 to Sid Francis. When July wheat was selling around 76c in this market, just twelve days ago, Sid Francis bet $500 each with Ed Price, the "bucketshop" man, and N. C. Hardin, a grain dealer of Louisiana, Mo., that July wheat would sell at 70c before it sold at 79c. This morning wheat broke sharply in price and finally struck 70c, winning the $1,000 for Sid.

CRUSHING TIMBERS.

Experiments at Washington University With a Hydraulic Testing Machine.

Some interesting experiments were made at the Washington University yesterday afternoon with an hydraulic testing machine—the largest in the world—capable of exerting the enormous pressure of a million pounds. Huge timbers, such as are used as pillars in large commercial building, were crushed—not broken—lengthwise. The almost resistless force of the machine can hardly be appreciated. A piece of timber capable of sustaining 8,000 persons, more than twice as many as could be seated in the Music Hall of the Exposition, was crushed like an egg-shell when placed in the machine. The best brick piers two feet square, columns of granite a foot square and sandsome three feet square are ground to powder with the greatest ease. A log of selected long yellow leaf pine eleven inches square and thirty-six inches long was crushed yesterday under a pressure of 514,000 pounds.

The machine was designed by Prof. J. B. Johnson, who occupies the chair of consulting engineer of the university and for the purpose of pursuing investigations being made by the Government of the strength of commercial woods grown in the United States. The specimens crushed yesterday will form a part of an exhibit now at the World's Fair.

Alleged Wholesale Cattle Thieves.

John Hays was arrested in this city several weeks ago and was taken to Belleville, and James Radcliffe was brought up from Texas last night and placed in jail with him at Belleville. Several months ago the Thiel Detective Agency was employed by the Cattle-Growers' Association of Northern Texas to run down the men who were stealing stock from the Texas ranges by the wholesale. Ten car-loads of fine cattle arrived in this city in charge of two men and were disposed of at the East St. Louis Stock Yards. The men sold two of the carloads to Nelson Morris & Co. for $500 and disappeared before they got their money. The brand of members of the Cattle-Growers' Association was found on the cattle and the arrests followed.
